RHEE CABINET RESIGNS

—VENEZUELA—
Rebel Assault Beaten Down

Caracas, Venezuela (AP)—Backed firmly by Venezuela's political, labor and military leaders, the government of President Romulo Betancourt moved swiftly Wednesday to crush a rebellion near the Colombian border. Popular demonstrations cheered the president's actions and jarred at the rebellion.

The rebels were led by a disgruntled Venezuelan general. They crossed the border from Colombia, seized the mountain city of San Cristobal and tried to start a nationwide revolution. They failed.

But a government announcement Wednesday said rebel forces in San Cristobal had seized 200 hostages as a final push against remaining holdouts neared.

The hostages were said to be mostly students who fought against rebel patrols.

The government sent planes and troops against insurgent positions and said the rebels were quickly bottled up.

Foreign Minister Luis Arcaya charged the insurgents were backed by Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo, dictator of the Dominican Republic and an old foe of Betancourt. Officials have often linked him with antigovernment plots here.

Move At Dawn

This was the way the military situation was pieced together from reports reaching Caracas:

Under the command of Jesus Maria Castro Leon, a former air force general who has been agitating against the government for almost two years, the rebels moved across the border from Colombia at dawn.

How they managed to organize in that country, a friendly neighbor to the west, was not clear, but the mountain areas provide excellent cover.

Coffee Center

The rebel force proceeded 20 miles beyond the border to San Cristobal, a coffee center of about 50,000 people. They seized the barracks of the military garrison. The 400 soldiers thus were neutralized.

Then the national guard, Venezuela's border troops, began fighting back. National guard headquarters said they soon gained the upper hand.

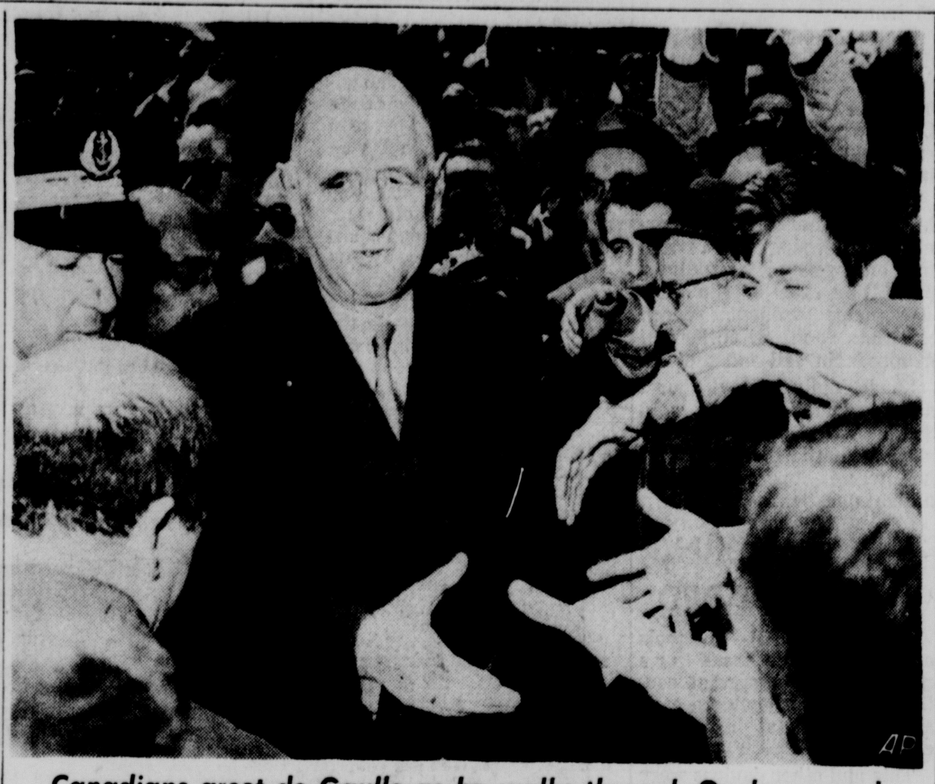

The government announced that 300 rebels went over to the loyal side as soon as they made contact. They were promptly sent to join in the fight against their former comrades who held the airport near San Cristobal.

The government said its air force made "a demolishing attack" against the rebels at the airport.

. . . QUEBEC CROWDS PLEASE DE GAULLE

Quebec (AP) — This picturesque French-speaking city cheered French President Charles de Gaulle Wednesday and turned out in thousands to get a glimpse of the towering French leader here for a brief visit.

The 69-year-old de Gaulle was obviously pleased by the warm reception. He mingled with the crowd at Quebec's famed war memorial, the Croix du Sacrifice, shook hands with a group of Canadian war veterans and kissed a baby.

The day was one of ceremonies, public appearances and little informal speeches. De Gaulle ruled out prepared addresses and sought to make his visit as informal as possible.

He arrived Wednesday morning from Ottawa, where he had spent two days. The Ottawa visit was partly social, but it included a round of pre-summit talks with Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and a major policy speech.

De Gaulle will fly Thursday morning to Montreal, Canada's largest city, before concluding his 4-day Canadian stay at Toronto Friday morning. He goes on from there to Washington and private talks with President Eisenhower.

Shot Put Hits Omaha Youth

Omaha (UPI — A 13-year-old Omaha youth suffered a fractured skull Wednesday afternoon when he was struck in the back of the head with a shop put.

Donald Merrill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Merrill was taken to an Omaha Hospital by rescue squad members. His condition was listed as fair.

Rescue squad members said the youth was apparently watching shot putters at Monroe Junior High School when he walked in the line of flight of one of the 12-pound iron balls.

They said he was knocked unconscious, but came to just as the rescue squad arrived about 4:30 P.M.

His parents said young Merrill will remain hospitalized about a week.

Ocean Explorers Back With Report Of 'Finds'

Washington (UPI) —The sea research ship Explorer has concluded a 79-day, 8,000-mile voyage which produced evidence of mineral treasure off the west coast of Central America and an unsuspected "drowned atoll" in the Caribbean.

The Explorer, which belongs to the Coast and Geodetic Survey, left Seattle Feb. 2. It carried out thousands of individual research projects in the course of its long voyage which carried it through the Panama Canal and up to U.S. east coast to its dock here.

10 Scientists Aboard

Dr. Harris B. Stewart, oceanographer of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, described the trip as one of the most successful sea research expeditions ever conducted by this country. Some 15 government and private agencies participated. Aboard the ship were 10 scientists, 13 officers, and 71 crew members.

Photographs of the sea bottom at depths of more than two miles and core samples indicated existence of rich mineral deposits off the west coast of Central America. The mineral is in the form of metallic manganese nodules similar to those known to exist in the Pacific west of Mexico. Nickel, cobalt, and other ores are believed to be associated with the manganese.

Uncharted Bank

It was south of Great Swan Island, 97 miles northeast of Honduras in the Caribbean, that the oceanographers found possible evidence of a drowned coral atoll. No such atoll is known to exist anywhere else in the Caribbean depths.

The ship found an uncharted bank about 7 miles long where the sea bottom rose abruptly from a depth of 6,000 feet to an average depth of a little over 100 feet. The scientists cored dead coral and discovered indications of an old volcanic cone such as exist under Pacific atolls.

Misquoted, Asserts HST Despite Tape Recording

New York (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman claimed Wednesday he was misquoted about Communist influence on Negro sit-down demonstrators. But a tape recording contradicted him.

At a Cornell University news conference on Monday Truman discussed student sit-downs in the South to end segregation of public eating facilities. A tape recording made by WICB-TV, Ithaca, has him saying:

"I don't think they're all students. I think this was engineered by the Communists."

Later, Truman was asked if he still thought Communists had something to do with the demonstrations and the tape recorded his answer as:

"I wouldn't be surprised."

The remarks provoked anger on the part of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, which demanded an apology. Integrationists already were smarting from a previous Truman remark that if students staged a similar demonstration on property he owned, he would throw them out.

When reporters raised the subject of the Cornell news conference Wednesday during Truman's morning stroll here, he told them:

"I was misquoted and I have no further comment."

Move Is Seen As 'Apology'

Seoul (AP)—The South Korean cabinet resigned Thursday in the face of civilian rebellion at home and a rebuke to the Rhee regime from the United States for harsh suppression of democratic rights.

President Syngman Rhee, still the strongman at age 85, remained in office.

The opposition quickly reacted to the cabinet's departure, saying this was not convincing evidence of reform.

The cabinet resignation was viewed as a possible attempt to have Rhee's ministers accept blame for the harsh military measures used to suppress civilian demonstrations protesting the conduct of the March elections.

Unless accompanied by a firm promise of reforms, the cabinet resignation was not expected to appease Koreans who turned out by thousands Tuesday to demonstrate against the government and demand new elections.

Toll At 115

Police gunfire then cut down nearly 1,000 persons. The latest official casualty count said 115 were killed, 777 were injured and 1 is missing.

Vice President John Chang, a member of the Democratic Party in opposition to Rhee's Liberal Party, was quick to declare the cabinet resignation "cannot be a basic factor in dealing with the turbulent situation . . . Only a fair election can be."

The demonstrations against the government were set off by charges that the March 15 election of the unopposed Rhee and his contested candidate for vice president, Lee Ki Poon, was fraudulent.

'No Coalition'

Chang, speaking at a hastily called news conference, rejected any suggestion of a coalition cabinet and urged that the National Assembly be convened immediately.

The tough old president, stung by the U.S. rebuke, had promised to investigate and correct "major causes of discontent."

The cabinet change appeared to be designed largely as an apology for the bloodshed, not as a move toward correcting underlying causes of South Korea's turmoil.

Envoy Present

While the cabinet members waited in the executive mansion to meet with Rhee, U.S. Ambassador Walter P. McConaughy was conferring with the president to press Washington's call for more democracy as the solution to this nation's troubles.

Secretary of State Christian Herter had called for Rhee to strengthen freedom of elections, assembly, speech and press and to give equal treatment to opposition parties.

While the political activity went on, heavily armed troops and police kept a vigilant guard in quiet but uneasy Seoul.

WELCH SAYS:

Old Depots Might Make CD Shelters

The Nebraska Adjutant General said Wednesday he has requested the federal government to consider keeping the vacant ammunition depots in the state as possible nuclear warfare shelters.

Maj. Gen. Lyle A. Welch said his request is being discussed by the National Civil Defense Office and the General Services Administration.

He said there is room enough in the World War II storage depots near Sidney, Hastings, Grand Island and Mead to shelter "hundreds of thousands of people for a day or so" in case of nuclear attack.

He made the request after "getting wind" that the federal government was planning to declare heavy concrete blockhouse type buildings as surplus to be sold and destroyed.

"We're talking a lot about building shelters these days," Gen. Welch said. "It seemed to us it would be unwise to dispose of the depots until it was definitely determined there would be no future need."

STAY AWAY FROM LITTLE JOE, OR . . .
. . . You May Lose Your Marbles

By Gene Budig

Ashland—Joe DiMaggio and Joe Louis!

Shucks, they're just hollow names around the Ashland grade school playground.

When it comes to athletes, the junior Ashlandites have their own heroic "Joe."

He's 7-year-old Joe Woitzel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woitzel who farm southwest of here.

Joe isn't a power-hitting outfielder or a pile-driving fullback: he's a marble shooter.

And a mighty good one, too.

Fat Sack

Since the weather turned nice, Joe, one of the littlest guys in his second grade class, has fattened his marble sack by some 50 marbles.

His collection of "spoils" now numbers over a hundred.

"I'm not too good," little Joe says modestly, but his playmates tell a different story.

"Joe's just great," one playmate whispered, "just watch him shoot." The playmate was right as he quickly won another "big steelie."

And the future?

Someday he wants to follow his father's footsteps in agriculture, but for the time being (as you probably have already guessed) he'll be happy to just keep on winning marbles.

Capital Airlines Says Federal Subsidy Vital

Washington (UPI) — Capital Airlines President David H. Baker told stockholders Wednesday the firm must have immediate federal subsidy to survive.

Merger with another airline would be a long-range solution to Capital's problems, he said, but the firm will go under before that can be accomplished unless its present cash needs are met.

Baker also said there was no collusion involved in Capital's request to the Civil Aeronautics Board for a federal subsidy and a suit by Vickers-Armstrongs, Ltd., to foreclose on its $33,800,000 loan to Capital.

"If the Vickers action is designed to force CAB action, which I doubt, I can say without reservation that Capital has not been a party to any such program," he said.

Peril Ahead

Vickers, a British airplane manufacturer which supplies some of Capital's equipment, has taken court action that threatens the airline with receivership and loss of its planes.

Vickers officials have said, however, that the firm would rather get paid than ground the airline. Part of the debt is guaranteed against default by an agency of the British government.

Capital has asked the CAB for an annual subsidy of $12,900,000 to help it get out of the red.

A group of Capital employe-stockholders said later that "something is deeply wrong internally" with the airline's management. It said "there is lots of indecision at all levels" and "sloppy business practices abound."

DEMO MEET POST GOES TO BOWLES

Los Angeles (AP)—Chester Bowles, an advocate of a strong civil rights program, Wednesday was named platform chairman for the Democratic national convention next July.

Civil rights is generally regarded as the issue most likely to stir heated debate on a regional basis at the convention.

Bowles, now a congressman and ex-governor of Connecticut is serving now as foreign policy adviser to Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, a candidate for the nomination.

The platform committee sifts the issue—domestic and foreign — and proposes the party's platform for the fall campaign.

National Chairman Paul Butler termed the selection of Bowles an ideal one. He said the New Englander has a rich background in domestic and foreign affairs and is well equipped "to deal with all problems confronting our party."

Rail Dispute Is Certified To Ike

Naming Of Emergency Board Would Head Off Any Strike

Washington (AP)—A strike-threatening wage wrangle between the nation's railroads and 11 unions was dropped in President Eisenhower's lap Wednesday.

The action by the National Mediation Board almost certainly means that a strike of 650,000 non-operating rail workers will be put off at least for 60 days, after May 5.

The next step is for Eisenhower to appoint an emergency board to consider the dispute. Under the law, this would postpone any walkout for 30 days, while the board holds hearings and drafts its recommendations, and 30 days more while the parties negotiate on the board's proposals.

Pay Hike Asked

The workers—those who maintain and service the trains but do not run them—are demanding 25 cents an hour more in pay and improvements in vacations, holiday and welfare benefits.

The railroads have countered with a demand that the non-operating workers take a 15-cents-an-hour pay cut.

As things stand now, the employes average $2.40 an hour.

LAFB Squadron Transfer Slated To Begin In May

The scheduled transfer of 388 officers and men of the 307th Air Refueling Squadron from Lincoln to Selfridge AFB in Michigan, will begin May 1, base officials announced.

An advance party of about 43 men will depart for the Michigan base near Detroit May 1--5, with the remainder of the men leaving in 4 phases. The move will be completed by June 14.

Base officials said that if any blow is felt to Lincoln's economy by the transfer of the men and their families, it is expected to be offset by the several hundred missilemen scheduled for the Atlas complex surrounding the Lincoln base and city.

4 Are Killed In A Carolina Plane Crash

Hickory, N. C. (AP) — Four Michigan men crashed to their deaths near the Hickory Airport today after their small private plane collided with a Piedmont airliner as both ships made landing approaches.

The twin-engine F27 airliner, Piedmont Flight 50 bound from Cincinnati to Fayetteville, N. C., with 36 persons aboard, landed safely with light damage and no injuries.

Hickory police said the planes, operating under visual flight rules, apparently did not see each other because of the angles of their landing approaches. There is no air control tower in operation here but one under construction.

The 4 men were identified as representatives of Grand Rapids furniture companies who were to visit the Hickory furniture show.

Papers found in the wreckage identified the victims as officials of the Imperial Furniture Co. They were Julius Bergsma, 44, president; David Frank, 66, West Coast sales manager; Earl Gordon Krombeen, 41; executive vice president; and Frederick James firm has financial interests in the Hammary Manufacturing Co. of Lenoir, N. C.

Hundreds More Are Arrested

. . . In South Africa

Johannesburg, South Africa (AP) — Police and soldiers backed by armored cars arrested 700 Negroes Wednesday in raids on native settlements outside major cities on South Africa's cape peninsula. More than a thousand have been seized in the last 48 hours.

The raids are part of the drive to squelch an abortive week-long strike called by the outlawed African National Congress protesting the governments strict apartheid laws.

Failure of the strike brought demands from liberal white groups for an end to emergency regulations permitting raids on Negro settlements without search warrants and detention of hundreds in jail indefinitely.

Lands Minister Paul Sauer, acting government head, said South Africa would "reconsider in earnest and honesty her whole approach to the native question.'

CARD PEEKING LENSES BARED

New York (UPI)—The tools of the gambling trade are many, including special contact lenses that enable a card shark to peek at his opponent's hand.

This and other devices were described to the state investigation commission which held open hearings on illegal gambling in New York City.

John Shanley, deputy inspector of the commission's investigation unit, testified that gambling equipment catalogues had been seized in several raids recently.

He said one company advertised lenses designed to see special markings on cards. The glasses sold for $165 and the special cards for $8.

Earlier, Kings County Dist. Atty. Edward Silver emphasized the necessity of using wiretaps to catch and convict gamblers.

Silver said wiretap evidence should be allowed in court to give gamblers long jail terms.

"Send these bums to jail," he said. "They don't like that."

LAWMAKERS OPPOSE CANCELING OF PRESIDENT'S TRIP TO KOREA

Washington (UPI) — Reports that President Eisenhower may cancel his scheduled trip to Korea in protest against the tactics of Syngman Rhee's government Wednesday drew quick complaints from key members of Congress.

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and other lawmakers said they agreed with the Eisenhower administration's sharp criticism of the Rhee regime for its "repressive measures" against anti-government rioters.

But they said they did not believe the situation would be remedied by a sudden cancellation of the President's planned 8 hour stop-over in Korea June 22 on his way home from Soviet Russia.

"I don't see that just saying not to go is any solution," Fulbright said. "I don't see what we would gain by bypassing the visit now that it is scheduled. Perhaps the President could persuade the Rhee government to be more democratic."

Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) agreed. He told the Senate there would be "nothing to be gained by calling off the President's trip."

He said the President could use his visit to reaffirm this nation's confidence that the South Korean republic will return to "true democratic practices and constitutional liberties for the people of south Korea."

In Augusta, Ga., where President Eisenhower was preparing to wind up his golfing vacation Thursday, the White House said that the Korean visit still was on the President's schedule.

But officials here made it plain that the date with Rhee was being carefully re-examined in light of the rioting.

Pair Arraigned In Connection With Shooting Incident In West Lincoln

By Del Harding

Two 37-year-old Lincoln men were arraigned in County Court Wednesday following a shooting incident which resulted in a deputy sheriff being slightly wounded.

Robert D. Manwiller of 1643 O pleaded innocent to a charge of shooting with intent to kill. Judge Herbert A. Ronin set a preliminary hearing for May 4 and fixed appearance bond at $15,000.

Clifford Husband, also of 1643 O, pleaded guilty to charges of resisting an officer and disturbing the peace and was fined a total of $200 and sentenced to 30 days in jail by Judge Ronin.

Husband also pleaded guilty to malicious destruction of property but denied the offense later, so Judge Ronin entered an innocent plea for him and set trial for May 4.

Arrested

Dep. Co. Atty. William Blue told the court that the two men were arrested at the Top Hat Tavern at 722 Grand in West Lincoln Tuesday by Dep. Sheriffs Robert Lane and William S. Jones Jr.

They reportedly had become belligerent after the tavern bartender had refused to serve them more beer, and they knocked a hole in a rest room door and jerked a phone receiver from the wall.

Husband and Manwiller, along with Vernie Phillips, 43, of 1113 H, were all loaded into the patrol car and Lane started to drive away when Husband jumped from the car.

Gun Taken

Jones got from the car and grabbed Husband and he and Lane were attempting to handcuff Husband when Manwiller reportedly slid across the car seat, grabbed Lane's .38 pistol from its holster and jumped from the car.

Blue said Manwiller told Jones to let go of Husband. Jones did so and raised his hands (he was unarmed) and Manwiller then fired the pistol at Jones, Blue told the court.

The bullet reportedly struck the ground in front of Jones as he turned sideways and the bullet glanced upward and brushed against his stomach, injuring him slightly. Jones was treated at a local hospital and released.

Lane then reportedly jumped Manwiller, an ex-convict, knocked the gun from his hand and subdued him.

Husband made a grab for the gun but Jones restrained him and finally both men were loaded into the car and brought to the county jail.

En route both Husband and Manwiller reportedly threatened the lives of the deputies and also tried to get Phillips to help them overpower the deputies.

Phillips told them the lawmen were "his friends." He reportedly took no part in the assault incident and was charged only with being drunk. He was fined $10.

Basic Bids On Resurfacing Said 'Favorable' By Fisher

Basic bids totaling $170,973 for the asphalt resurfacing of 6.88 miles of arterial streets were termed "very favorable" Wednesday by City Engineer Carl Fisher.

Pioneer Paving Co. was low at $92,754 for asphalt surfacing of the group of streets east of 27th. Dobson Bros. Construction Co. bid $93,344.

Dobson Bros. was low at $78,219.50 on the group west of 27th while Pioneer bid $78,457.

Fisher explained the basic bids were for the asphalt resurfacing in place and does not include preparatory work, such as ripping up the old asphalt surface.

Equipment

Unit prices for equipment on an hourly basis for this work as needed was included in the bids, but no total quantities were estimated.

Fisher said the unit-hour cost for this preparatory work is cheaper for the city than attempting to get firm bids on an estimated total.

Fisher also noted the basic price for asphalt surface in place was less this year than in last year's resurfacing program.

To Council

Recommendations on the bids will go Monday to the City Council. Contracts will call for completion of the work by July 15 or a $25-a-day penalty.

Streets in the two projects:

East of 27th—Cotner from E to O; Cotner from Baldwin to Adams; Cotner from 48th to E; Adams from 44th to 55th; Vine from 27th to 35th; A from 48th to 50th; and 48th from Van Dorn to Sumner.

West of 27th—9th from D to South; 17th from Van Dorn to Calvert; 17th from Washington to F; 27th from Randolph to J; 47th form Sheridan to 150 feet north of Woodsdale; A from 1st to 2nd, and Van Dorn from 19th to 20th.

Asphalt surfacing on these streets ranges from 32 to 37 years old and is the "worst in the city" though some others are "nearly as bad" after the worst winter in recent years, according to engineering officials.

Officials estimate final cost at less than $200,000.

Gomulka Vacations

Warsaw (UPI) — Wladyslaw Gomulka, first secretary of the Polish Communist Party, has left for the Soviet Union on vacation.

Republican Candidate Urges Cut-Back In Cuban Imports

Sargent (UPI) — Two candidates took issue with inexperienced politicians and their talk about farm problems and provisions of the U.S. Sugar Act here Wednesday night.

Clair Callan, Odell, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, and Dave Martin, Kearney, Republican candidate for the 4th Congressional seat, spoke at a know-your-candidates meeting of the Custer County Farm Bureau.

Callan, a farmer and a farm equipment dealer, said most politicians who like to discuss the farm problem have no idea of what they're talking about.

"People not actively engaged in farming just can't realize or have any conception of what the Nebraska farmer faces," he said. "It's easy to say 'we should do something,' but until they actually feel the thin pocketbook and, at the same time, see all the price increases, they're only being sympathetic, not helpful."

Martin termed "sheer folly" U.S. Sugar Act provisions which call for one-third of all sugar used in this country to be imported from Cuba.

He urged Congress to cut down on imports of sugar from "Castro's Cuba" as a means of "increasing the demand for Nebraska sugar beets." The current law expires at the end of this year.

The Good And The Bad

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The two strictly city issues on the May 10 ballot offer quite a conflict in one respect — one is a distinct improvement and a definite need while the other is just the opposite. The proposed $3,250,000 bond issue for improvement of the city's parks is in the first category, while the proposed district plan of City Council representation is in the other.

The park program represents many years of hopes and desires on the part of many people. Various interests have long wanted to see Lincoln's park system brought up to current needs but there have always been other pressing demands upon the city's funds which squeezed out the park plans. If the improvements planned in this program were done at a rate equal to the current year's capital expenditures in the Park Department budget, it would take 112 years to be completed. But the improvements planned are considered basic needs as of today.

At Current Pace 112 Years

Lincoln's total park acreage has actually declined during the years of the city's greatest growth. And there has been practically no city development of the parks it has in recent years. Only 16 per cent of the city's park land has been purchased with tax money, the remainder coming from gifts and annexations.

Much of the improvement in the parks has come about during the W.P.A. and N.Y.A. days of the depression '30's and through the dedicated generosity of civic-minded groups and individuals who have donated their time and money to development of the parks. In short, Lincoln people have never been called upon to assume the responsibility that is theirs in the matter of park facilities.

This program would provide the playground and recreation areas that our young people need for constructive leisure-time activities. It would provide many such recreational facilities as swimming pools, tennis courts and even a new golf course. It would provide for family outings under pleasant conditions, including good roads to drive on, good places to park and adequate watering and lighting in the parks.

The program would also give the city an asset that would be valuable in the attraction of new industry and in the drawing of people into the city from neighboring regions. A city's park and recreation program is an important consideration of industry for the sake of its employes. Every single park in Lincoln would be improved with this plan and three areas would get brand new parks—all for an average household cost of less than 2 cents a day. The program will admittedly cost money but it is an investment in the welfare of humanity that Lincoln badly needs.

The second city issue on the ballot, unfortunately, is of quite a different nature. The district plan of representation — on the ballot by virtue of a petition demand to put it there — would set the city back many, many years. It represents the kind of archaic government from which any progressive city should flee.

The plan calls for the election of one councilman from each of six districts in the city, to serve two-year terms. There can be no question that this program would mean a growing division of the city into pockets of special, selfish interests. This is the kind of thing which leads to vote-trading, petty bickering, political trickery and other evils — evils which are hard enough to avoid even with the much more advanced form of government we have in Lincoln today.

We are making no effort here to present both sides of this issue because we believe the other side is so weak and worthless that it does not merit any explanation. Those who successfully steered this issue onto the ballot had every right to do so and are to be complimented for their civic interest. Their intentions are not questioned but their wisdom is highly questionable. Even if the district plan were good — and it is not — this one has no merit. It is a mechanical monstrosity because it provides for no continuity of government through staggered terms, makes no provisions for redistricting according to future population changes and provides no machinery for transition from one form of government to the other.

District Plan Lacks Merit

The kindest thing which can be said about this issue is that it has been conceived in sincerity but nurtured in misunderstanding and lack of knowledge. It would be a severe blow to the progress of Lincoln if this plan of government should pass. If voters go to the polls for no other reason, they should do so to vote against the district plan of representation.

"Do You Mind If We Play Through?"

Sen. Case's Renomination

New Jersey's liberal Republican Senator Clifford Case won renomination handily in his primary battle with his party's conservative representative, Robert Morris.

A rough count gave Case a margin of 100,000 votes.

It was a clear cut decision in favor of the liberal-progressive cause, gained over a rival who was amply suited to be the conservative standard bearer. Morris was well known to New Jersey voters, was former chief counsel for the Senate Internal Security subcommittee. He is also a well established leader of New Jersey conservatism.

The strength evidenced by Senator Case in the primaries stands in his favor in his oncoming campaign against Thorn Lord, the Democratic nominee. His nomination is no comfort to the Democrats who will find the pickings better in other states in the matter of relieving the Republicans of further Senate seats.

But interestingly enough the Case nomination is not very comforting to the Republican party either. It adds nothing to its hopes to stage a presidential upset.

The primary campaigns generally around the country, including the one just completed in New Jersey, fail to show any swing away from past Democratic trends. Indeed they rather show that the trend is progressing, giving continued evidence that eight years of control of the national administration was largely a personal achievement of the ever popular Eisenhower. It was born with him and may easily pass away when he leaves office with little or no residuary benefit to the Republican party.

Helpful Service

Early this week the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture gave the operating farmers the results of its several year study of minimum tillage.

It had dependable evidence to show that deep cultivation is neither the most desirable nor only open sesame to sound grain production. In fact, hardly more than scratch preparation of the soil, if it is the right sort of scratching, will produce as well, conserve moisture and soil better, and save a great deal of labor cost. It is to be expected that as a result, Nebraska farming will in reasonable time adjust to new and better production methods.

The demonstration and study was one of incalculable value to Nebraska agriculture and an illustration of the continuing worth and service of an effective agricultural school. The College of Agriculture has played a great role in Nebraska's economic advance.

Some who are not in a position to follow agricultural progress at close range may raise the question of consistency. In a nation plagued with overproduction what profit is there in stimulating further surpluses? The question is valid only in that it provides an opportunity for an answer.

If minimum tillage does no more than save the operator as much as $5 an acre in labor costs it will prove an important relieving factor in the current price-cost squeeze. If it substantially conserves the soil's moisture it will tend to stabilize the farm economy by its approach to ever-normal production. If it substantially diminishes soil loss through erosion it can reduce by millions the ultimate cost of desperate measures to prevent reduction of the region to a worked out condition.

Enlightened agriculture never provoked a farm crisis. But Heaven help Nebraska and the nation when the problem of surpluses goes to solution by way of bankrupt farmers and dead soil.

Not Hard To Correct

Since the Federal Communications Commission found new leadership under Chairman Frederick W. Ford the public interest is getting more consideration.

Mr. Ford appeared before Congress recently to say that the indulgence in payola henceforth will have weight in the commission's determination of whether a station will or will not be granted a license renewal. He added that the commission is preparing a bill aimed at outlawing rigged shows.

This is all very good and much better than the old commission's apparent indifference to whatever went on in the television industry. But it is going to take more than a few congressional acts and gadflying by the commission to put television up where it belongs both in terms of public service and public affection.

The industry started out with the wrong forbears in mind, and developed as the spiritual heir to the old time medicine show—an institution that hauled its wagon into town and proceeded to stage a bit of entertainment in order to gather up a crowd for the purpose of selling snake oil. This isn't to say that the snake oil was no good. In most instances it really was good for what snake oil is good for. It was rather that neither was the theater cultural or beneficial, nor that the impressarios recognized the need for any sort of public responsibility. It was a simple matter. The crowd assembled and the snake oil moved in satisfactory volume.

It has always been the redeeming feature of newspapers that attached to them has been the ever present responsibility of supplying needed and dependable news and that is the saving discipline.

The visual and audible industry need not fear the burden of public responsibility. It will be helped by it and will not suffer commercially or in any other way. But this is all a matter of self determination rather than of regulatory laws.

FTC Goes In For House Cleaning

WASHINGTON — Something peculiar has happened at the Federal Trade Commission. It's coming to life. Sometimes called "the old lady of Pennsylvania Avenue," the FTC has chucked away its old-fashioned bonnet and stepped out with teen-age vigor against monopoly, payola, and Madison Avenue myth-making.

The Federal Trade Commission, established by Woodrow Wilson, was once one of the most live-wire branches of government. Under Victor Murdock of the Wichita (Kans.) Eagle family, the commission broke up the meat packers trust and raised cain generally with big business. In recent years, however, it has become the dumping ground for lame-duck congressmen, placid bureaucrats, and for a time a gold mine for Goldfine. Its motto was that observed in Pullman cars after 10 p.m.: "Quiet is requested for the benefit of those who have retired."

However, young Chairman Earl Kintner has put new life in the old gal on Pennsylvania Avenue. He has the commission working all hours of the day and night—even sitting up late watching TV commercials.

And, most interesting of all, he has cracked down on such important supporters of the Eisenhower administration as General Motors which once had three officials in the Eisenhower cabinet, Libbey-Owens, Ford, Burlington Mills, and the Ted Bates Advertising Agency which filmed the famous Eisenhower commercials during the 1952 election.

Despite this, the White House has been helping Kintner inject new life into the FTC. Ike's tight-fisted Budget Bureau actually gave Kintner an increased budget to hire new attorneys and a larger staff for his crackdowns. However, Democrats in the House Appropriations Committee, though talking loudly about protecting little business, proceeded to slash the chief government agency for protecting little business. Senate Democrats have a chance to rectify this.

Note — Chairman Kintner was first appointed to the Federal Trade Commission by Harry Truman in 1948. He is a career government servant who got his start on the War Crimes Commission in Japan.

For years, Minnesota's energetic Sen. Hubert Humphrey has been trying to persuade the Agriculture Department to adopt a food-for-peace plan to distribute surplus food to needy countries. But the Agriculture Department has thrown one obstacle after another in the way. Last July, for example, Undersecretary of Agriculture True Morse testified against appointing a food-for-peace administrator. However, last week, under pressure of election-year politics, President Eisenhower appointed Don Paarlberg as "Food-For-Peace coordinator."

Johnson's Quiet Drive Is Underway

WASHINGTON — The Senate majority leader, Mr. Johnson of Texas, will not be available in Washington this week end to meet the nation's editors at their annual conclave. He has prior engagements in his adopted homeland, the great West.

Lyndon Johnson will speak with and for Democrats in Denver, Colo., Salt Lake City, Utah, and Cheyenne, Wyo. The pattern of his quiet campaigning for the presidency shows him to be relying on very much the same elements which enabled him to put together his smoothly functioning Senate power machinery.

He realized early in his Senate career that a frontal assault on the big states, with their more dynamic and liberal politics, would probably be useless. In its place and operating from a base in the Solid South, he has outflanked them with the more sparsely populated states of the West, the Southwest and the East where his party is strong and usually afforded a pair of Democratic senators with whom to work.

The interests of such states tend to be more tightly held and less diversified. By a clever manipulation of committee assignments, it proved possible for him to enlist enduring loyalties from senators of a wide range of ideologies.

When Johnson eyed the presidency, he swiftly realized that the western and liberal patina which would make his geographical base more palatable to the pivotal states might be acquired in the same way. His travels suggest that his effort has begun in dead earnest.

The customary reliable sources have already let it be known that Johnson lost no part of his southern support in the civil rights fight. It is expected to give him about 400 votes on the first ballot at Los Angeles.

Johnson still has not announced his formal candidacy and his political managers. He will almost surely put together an organization with widespread geographical appeal. The senators he has helped will help him, and conservative Democrats everywhere consider him as conservative as they are likely to get this year.

The problem still remains that what works for the Senate and with senators does not necessarily appeal to the mass of voters and the governors and local leaders who will be so influential at the convention. Each state has two senators, but each state does not have the same electoral vote. Inspiring people with confidence in one's ability to run the government, and especially its foreign relations, is a vastly different problem from figuring out a senator's character and special needs.

Senators are speaking glowingly of their leader and they are not likely to change their tune; they will still be senators, they all hope, after 1960. But it could well be that the real strength of the Johnson movement will be more nearly revealed when the governors' conference convenes at Glacier National Park June 26 and the 35 Democrats among them, who will be chairmen of their convention delegations, speak their minds.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

To Your Good Health

Many times people have asked, "Can strokes be avoided?"

A recent article in the quarterly, "Your Radiologist," gives an answer by Dr. John E. Whiteleather, of Memphis.

Dr. Molner

He says that strokes can be averted — in certain cases. Claiming that all strokes can be foreseen, much less prevented, would be foolish. But some can, he says. And I agree with him, and so do many other physicians.

How? By the use of angiography. This is a process of injecting a material into the bloodstream, so the blood will appear opaque when an X-ray is taken. (This is the same way you X-ray the intestinal tract, by having the patient drink a barium solution. Without this, the intestinal tract would be transparent to the X-rays, and there would be no "picture" of it.)

By use of angiography, it becomes possible to "see" how large the blood vessels are. If you see a place at which a fairly large vessel suddenly becomes very small, you know that an obstruction is present. A partial obstruction, that is.

It is important for the physician, if not for the patient, to remember that the arteries in the neck should be X-rayed, as well as those in the brain, because this narrowing can occur in the neck, too. A complete obstruction there can be just as severe as having it happen in the brain, because that is the route the blood has to follow in reaching the brain.

Well, suppose you discover a place at which such a narrowing or partial blockage is present. What then? What can you do to keep it from becoming a "stroke" later on?

One answer is surgery, grafting a "by-pass" around the semiobstructed point. This calls for the hand of a surgeon who thoroughly understands this delicate art.

However, surgery isn't the only answer. In many cases drugs can be used to keep the blood thinner, so it can flow more easily past the narrow place, and prevent clots which might lodge there. (Likewise the drugs are usually employed for an extended time after surgery.)

I don't mean that your family doctor will be able to do this angiography for you. It requires special equipment. Nor can you expect your family doctor to do the surgery or other treatment. This requires specialized training.

But — and this is something which so often is forgotten — you family doctor can refer you to the many hospitals which now are doing this sort of work.

And he also can help you detect the signs which mean that angiography (and subsequent treatment) are likely to be worth while: Combinations of such symptoms as dizziness, unexplained headache, changes in personality, certain curious visual defects, speech difficulties and other signs which indicate that the blood supply to the brain is being interfered with.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Can I get the right kind of protein without eating meat — beef, mutton, pork — A. T."

Yes. Eggs, fish, cheese, poultry, seafood, are all high in protein.

☆ ☆ ☆

Note to Mrs. F. G. M.: The "colored ring around lights at night" is sometimes a sign of glaucoma, but not always. An eye specialist could tell in short order, and that is what I recommend for you.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is gangrene of the leg contagious? Or is there any danger of infection during a visit with such a person? — Mrs. E. H."

Gangrene is due to plugged arterial circulation. It is not contagious in itself. But the presence of odor means that infection has invaded the area of gangrene, and due precautions should, of course, be taken to keep that area covered. To make it plainer, a cut finger isn't contagious. If the cut becomes infected, then keep the infection from being transferred to anyone else, or to any other part of the person who has the infected cut.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Two years ago I had a ganglion removed from my wrist, but another formed. I am a pianist so this impedes my playing even though it is not normally painful. — W. S."

A ganglion is a cyst in a tendon. If the sac (which contains the cyst) is not completely removed, the cyst can recur.

"Dear Dr. Molner: How do you feel about giving turpentine and sugar for worms — L. H."

There are more specific remedies, some quite new, that are better (and not so untasty to take.)

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Reader's questions are incorporated in his columns whenever possible.

Salt-Wahoo Plan

Lincoln, Neb.

Picture a mammoth hopper with an opening almost as large as the hopper itself. Now, if you wanted to control the flow of a liquid dumped into this hopper with such an opening, I am sure everyone would agree it would be an impossibility.

Now picture a hopper of the same size with a small opening designed to control the flow of any amount of liquid that could conceivably be dumped into this hopper. In this instance, I am sure everyone would also agree that controlled release would be gradual, which would eliminate the occurrence of a major catastrophe.

And there is the simple solution. The first example is the present Salt-Wahoo Watershed. The second example will become a reality if sufficient voters with a desire for advancement go to the polls on May 10 and vote for the Salt-Wahoo Watershed Plan.

I am sure everyone will vote for it if he visualizes the catastrophic results of a 10-inch downpour with uncontrolled runoff.

Garbage Hauling

Lincoln, Neb.

The big push is on. It will be only a matter of time before there will be no independent garbage haulers in Lincoln. The big syndicate has just put the old squeeze play on the small haulers, forcing them to succumb either by selling out or joining.

The first big move was to get the city to force all haulers to purchase expensive packers, but opposition was too strong. If all the haulers had been forced to buy these big trucks, it would have returned large profits to the firm supplying the packers. It has come to be poor government when a non-resident of Lincoln can head a syndicate and get favorable action out of the city's duly elected officials.

Once in complete power, the city will be divided in to districts. The home-owner will have the city telling him who his hauler shall be and what he will be charged.

It will be only a matter of time before an organized body such as this will have the home-owner paying a minimum of $3 per month for hauling. Next, city officials will ask that all residents of the city be charged for hauling whether such service is used or not.

It appears that garbage hauling is a very profitable business. Maybe the taxpayers of Lincoln should see the city acquire the needed provisions to set itself up in the hauling business and possibly earn revenue for our needs.

The issue again is the threat of big business eliminating small businessmen.

Spiritual Food

Lincoln, Neb.

The story of American freedom is commonly regarded as the western movement of the pioneers — always onward to more land. But should the meaning of American liberty end here?

While we were conquering the soil, building massive cities, assembling mighty machines to sustain our society, we forgot that life has loveliness to sell. Let science and machinery and trade be our slaves, not our Pharaoh.

A worthwhile mall project was born last summer. What has come of it? Is the soul of our little Babylon doomed?

Let us build parks that students from afar would choose to starve in rather than go home. Man needs food for the spirit as well as the body. Make our Lincoln-hearted tower the glory that the prairie angels sing.

VOLTAIRE, JR.

Thank You

Lincoln, Neb.

Even before the first disaster planning meetings were called, it was the opinion of my office that Nebraskans were going to be in for some trouble when the snows began to thaw.

It was apparent then that the biggest problem involved in preserving lives and property on all our major riverways was going to be the matter of news dissemination and warning as to what might be expected. I felt certain that our news media throughout the state would be of very great assistance in this problem and the service of The Star certainly proved my assumption to be correct. The constant alertness of The Star reportorial staff and the accuracy with which they presented the information to the general public undoubtedly was a very great factor in holding the loss of lives and property to a minimum in our recent flood disaster.

My personal thanks for the very great assistance rendered to my headquarters during the emergency. I feel certain my opinion is re-echoed by multitudes of grateful Nebraskans.

Voting Right

Hubbell, Neb.

What would most folks do if deprived of their right to vote? Probably they would put up a fight. Yet a large per cent of our eligible voters do not take the time to go to the polls, especially at primary elections. Sometimes the primary vote is more important than at the fall election.

There probably never was a time in the state of Nebraska when it was more necessary for the Christian people to get out and vote.

OFF THE RECORD By Ed. Reed

"Continue with that line of questioning a little longer, Baldwin—I think you're on the right track."

Dream Comes True: Brazilians Have New Capital

Brasilia, Brazil (Thursday) (AP)—A new capital was born today.

At the stroke of midnight the unfinished, futuristic city of Brasilia — a completely new metropolis rising in the flat heartland of Brazil — took over from Rio de Janeiro as the national capital.

Religious services, a burst of light and the strains of the national anthem marked the occasion.

At midnight a marine band struck up the anthem and the city — previously plunged into darkness — glowed with light. And at the midnight hour, a solemn Roman Catholic mass was celebrated.

Later Thursday the government — presidency, congress and supreme court — will be installed in ceremonies in the new chambers.

Lively Scene

Brasilia seethed with excitement in the crush of visitors here for the inaugural.

Officials, guests and visitors poured in on planes arriving every 15 minutes under cloudy skies and amid swirls of red dust kicked up from still unpaved streets. Others came by car and truck.

Heading the official delegations was President Juscelino Kubitschek, who started planning the city when he took office in January 1956 and has hailed the move as a project of peace in a world arming for war.

National Dream

For a century Brazilians have dreamed of an inland capital aimed at uniting and opening up the interior of South America's largest country.

There has been some criticism of Kubitschek for his pushing ahead with the plan. It has been condemned as costing too much and riddled with graft. But what Kubitschek and thousands of workmen have done here has been called a construction miracle.

Solid Start

While the city still is a long way from completion, the nucelus of the capital is up. The palaces of the 3 branches of government have been finished. The first hotel is built.

Only a few government officials will remain here with Kubitschek now. The remainder will go back to Rio de Janeiro and move here later as remaining construction progresses.

Officials estimated that 100,000 persons came to Brasilia for the inauguration ceremonies, doubling Brasilia's current population.

Some visitors not assigned to space in the completed hotel took quarters in vacant apartment houses. Others drew tents pitched for the occasion.

Weather Ahead

Nebraska temperatures for the next 5 days will average near to slightly above normal. Frequent but minor temperature changes. Precipitation will average light to moderate occurring as showers about Thursday, Saturday and Monday. Normal high temperatures are 61 to 67; normal lows 35 to 43.

Cooper To Open Office On Friday

Sen. John Cooper of Humboldt, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, announced Wednesday that he will open his Lancaster County campaign headquarters in Lincoln Friday at 139 So. 12th.

Cooper also announced that he would release to the press Friday a summary of his views on state government.

"It is now time for positive thinking in this campaign. For the past several months I have presented my views on state government to people all over Nebraska.

"On Friday, at my Lincoln headquarters, I will release to the press a summary of these views and the step by step program I intend to initiate as governor.

GOP Names News Chief

Sam Jensen of Grand has been appointed news director for the Nebraska Republican Party, state GOP chairman Charles Thone said.

Jensen will coordinate all news and information activity for the 1960 campaign.

Jensen is a former staff member of the Lincoln Journal. He is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where he was editor of the Daily Nebraskan. He is a junior in the College of Law and a member of the board of editors of the Nebraska Law Review.

Walter Slezak, Broadway stage and Metropolitan Opera star, was a medical student and bank clerk in Vienna before he turned to the theater.

Women, Too, Will Go 'Out Of This World'

By Roger Wait

Are women going out of this world?

Yes, says Miss Joanne Alford of San Diego, Calif.

The petite, brown-eyed research engineer concedes that the first human being to ride the rockets beyond Earth's atmosphere will probably be a man, but women won't be far behind.

"They are physiologically equal or superior to men," argues the brown-haired, 27-year-old lass. "Women have just as much ability to learn in scientific and technical fields" as men.

Barnstormer

Her pet project is barnstorming the country, speaking to junior and senior high-school students about the advantages of careers in science, engineering and technological research.

JO ALFORD

Her targets Thursday will be 1,800 Lincoln 8th-graders who will descend on the Lincoln Air Force Base for the first of a 3-day-long Air Science Education program.

Friday will bring school children from all over Nebraska to the aerospace talks and displays. And Saturday, LAFB officials estimate, 50,000 of the public will turn out for the open house grand finale.

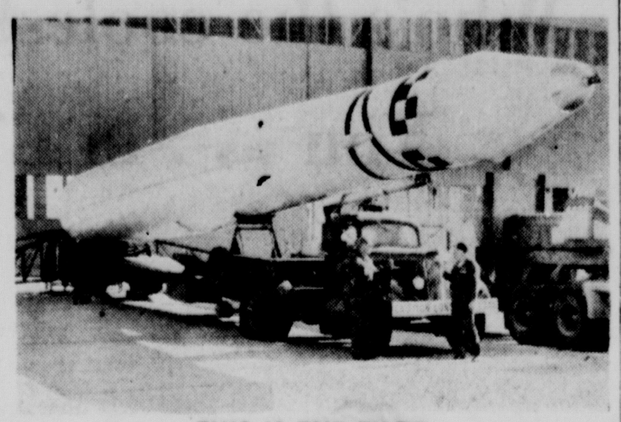

Well Traveled

In the past two years, Miss Alford has traveled more than 31,000 miles in talking to students in 27 states.

Why does she do it? She feels she has "something of interest to tell them."

The versatile young lady was graduated in 1955 from Purdue University with a B.S. in air transportation engineering. In 1956 the Air Force Assn. named her "Miss Air Power."

She speaks Spanish, plays the piano, flies single-engine airplanes and is a research engineer for Convair Astronautics, a division of General Dynamics Corp., in development of methods to train men to work with space-age materials.

THIS IS THE THOR

This model of a Thor intermediate range ballistic missile, one of many Air Science Education displays, will be raised to simulated firing position Thursday at the Lincoln Air Force Base, wind velocity permitting. (Star Photo)

The assistance went to 15,132 cases compared to 15,198 in February and 15,852 a year ago.

The average cost per case receiving assistance was $73.50 in March compared to $72.08 in February and $70.40 a year ago.

A month earlier it was $324,627 to 2,813 families with 8,250 children and a year ago it was $307,333 to 2,866 families with 8,053 children.

Average Up

The average per family was $116.90 in March compared to $115.40 a month earlier and $107.23 a year ago. The average per recipient was $30.53 in March compared to $30.16 in February and $28.90 a year ago.

Aid to the blind for March was $77,863 for 867 cases compared to $78,296 for 880 cases in February and $80,675 for 944 cases a year ago.

The average cost per case receiving assistance was $89.81 in March compared to $88.97 a month earlier and $85.46 a year ago.

Aid to the disabled for the month amounted to $140,829 for 1,774 cases compared to $131,182 for 1,754 cases in February and $115,889 for 1,540 cases a year earlier.

Selection of the 3 award winners will be made by committee members Saturday morning. The award is based on qualification and work at the hospital.

New Aid Board officers are Stanley Good, chairman; Mrs. Horace Munger, vice chairman; and Mrs. Kenneth McCaw, secretary-treasurer. Other board members include George Day, Mrs. Burket Graf, Mrs. R. W. India's Ambassador Seeks More Grain For His Country

India's Ambassador to the United States said Wednesday that American taxpayers would save money if they shipped more surplus grain to his country.

Ambassador Mahomedali Currim Chagla said India's Food Minister is planning to come to the United States soon to request that shipments be increased.

The United States already ships about 3 million tons a year to India, which is the country's approximate need. About half the cost is an outright grant, and the rest is bought on loan or earmarked for specific purposes such as health programs or use by American businessmen in India.

Increase

Chagla said the Food Minister will ask for an increase of one million tons a year for the next 4 years. This would be 4 million tons more than current needs during the period, which would be placed into a reserve.

The reserve would be used not only for flood and famine relief, Chagla said, but also as a tool to stabilize Indian grain prices.

"You will never need it," Chagla said, "but you have to pay storage on it. It should be sent where it could be put to good use."

Chagla, on his first visit to the midwestern United States, addressed a University of Nebraska convocation.

Wednesday he was made an admiral in the "Nebraska Navy" by Gov. Ralph G. Brooks, and was given a tour of the Capitol by Cloud Smith, part American Indian guide. He was accompanied by Mme. Chagla and two aides from the Embassy.

Ample Work For Young People In Nebraska Urged

Seward — Republican gubernatorial candidate Mrs. Hazel Abel of Lincoln Wednesday called for action "to provide ample work opportunities for our young people" so they will stay in Nebraska.

"Nebraska, a state where people live longer and, in many ways better, than they do in other places, should present as many opportunities for careers as some of the more glamorous spots like New York, Florida, Arizona and California," Mrs. Abel said.

"In a state where more people can read and write than anywhere else, it seems that our average intelligence should be equally high," the Republican candidate noted.

Mrs. Abel, who has now logged more than 5,000 miles this month in her gubernatorial campaign, will speak Friday at a luncheon in Beatrice to be attended by 300 women.

She will appear at the Nebraska Press Assn., banquet in Omaha Friday night, attend a tea Sunday in Lincoln, and appear at a series of public affairs in Scottsbluff Monday.

TASTE THE GREATNESS

...of America's most celebrated bourbon

SENATOR HENRY CLAY toasts Jenny Lind, the "Swedish Nightingale," at her debut in 1850 with his favorite bourbon, Old Crow.

Why has Old Crow been called "great" for 125 years? Why, today, is it America's most preferred bourbon? Simply, Old Crow was and is the perfect Kentucky bourbon. Taste the greatness of Old Crow tonight.

Lincoln Foundation Selects Officers At Annual Meeting

. . . Battey Renamed President

C. Wheaton Battey was re-elected president of The Lincoln Foundation at the group's 5th annual meeting Wednesday.

Battey

Other officers elected for the coming year include Robert C. Guenzel, vice president; Harry Simon, vice president; Herbert Potter, treasurer, and Mrs. Roscoe Hill, secretary.

Three new directors were added to the board increasing the number from 18 to 21. They are Potter, 3-year term; James N. Ackerman, one-year term, and Simon, two-year term.

Directors re-elected for 3-year terms are E. J. Faulkner; John K. Selleck, Carl W. Olson, Mrs. Hill, Thomas Pansing and George P. Abel Jr.

Fred N. Wells, executive director, reported the Foundation's financial balance is $139,752.

He reported that 3 of the 10 applications made for funds from the Lincoln Foundation were granted totaling $6,200.

They were $2,700 to the Rehabilitation Center Inc.; $500 to the White House Conference delegates, and $3,000 to City-County Surveys.

45 Names

Wells also announced that the Foundation's Book of Memory, dedicated to the late Thomas C. Woods, now has 45 names inscribed upon its pages. Each name represents a gift to the memorial book of from $5 to $100.

The Book of Memory funds total $3,426. This doesn't include $953 paid out to specific charities at the request of donors, Wells said.

He pointed out that a major accomplishment during the year was the tax exempt status granted the Foundation by the Internal Revenue Service.

Apparent Low Bids On New City Building Total $176,173

A combination of apparent low bids totaling $176,173 for construction of the new City Water and Light Department Service Building at 27th and Hitchcock was opened Wednesday at City Hall.

W. J. Broer Construction was low bidder at $137,995 on general construction using pre-stressed concrete beams and structural members. The alternate on steel was $160,720.

Other general bids using pre-stressed concrete with the alternate for steel shown in parenthesis were: O. C. Hirsch Construction, $145,387 ($145,387); M. W. Anderson Construction, $140,475 ($154,242); and George Cook Construction, $145,649 ($155,649).

Public Works Director D. L. Erickson said the pre-stressed concrete construction would be recommended Monday to the City Council. Several other minor alternates to the base bid are still under study, he added.

Other low bids were:

Heating and ventilating—Cornhusker Heating and Air Conditioning Co., $15,300. Four other bids ranged upwards to $20,055.

Plumbing contract—Aguilar Bros. Plumbing and Heating, $10,792. Three others ranged upwards to $11,274.

Electrical contract—Gregg Electric, $13,086. Five others ranged upwards to $18,550.

The one-story building will have 3 major sections: shop building with offices; service section, and warehouse.

It will permit consolidation of departmental facilities, now located at 2372 O and near 29th and A, under one roof.

Construction costs will come from water and light revenues. No tax funds are involved.

Northeast Rotary Honors Dr. Deal

Dr. Roy W. Deal was honored by the Northeast Rotary Club Wednesday night and presented the Northeast Good Citizen Award.

Dr. Deal

Dr. Deal, who is head of the psychology department at Nebraska Wesleyan University, was cited for his active interest in civic affairs, community improvements, church, Masonic work and Scouting.

He was cited primarily as a family man who in addition to doing an outstanding job of raising his family, found time to identify himself with the Boy Scouts, the Masonic Lodge, Lions International, the American Red Cross, the Community Chest, public and private education, and a host of additional worthwhile activities to a degree "far beyond that what one might expect of one individual."

2 Art Students Score At Kansas

Two University of Nebraska art students were awarded two of the top 3 prizes at the 3rd Annual Big 8 Conference Student Art Competition at the University of Kansas.

Raymond W. Schultze of York, a 1957 graduate of the University, won the second prize of $75 for his sculpture in walnut, entitled "Figure." Schultze is now a graduate student at the University of Colorado.

For his "Tondo IV 1960," an oil on canvas, Larry Johnson of Lincoln was awarded the third prize of $50. Johnson is a junior in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University.

Mickey Jelke Again Is Sued For Divorce

Miami, Fla. (AP) — Minot (Mickey) Jelke, oleomargarine heir who once served a prison term in New York for procuring, was again sued for divorce Wednesday by his wife, Sylvia.

She filed a similar action last year, her complaint noted, but dropped it when he promised to mend his ways.

The new complaint charged Jelke ignored her at a New Year's party in favor of cigaret girls. It said he came home drunk at 8:30 a.m. and continued drinking all that day and night.

The longest run of any play produced in New York was established by "Life With Father." It ran for 3,213 performances.

Conrad Isn't Paid While Campaigning

Gov. Ralph Brooks said Wednesday that his administrative assistant, Robert Conrad, does not draw pay while he is away from the office campaigning for the Democratic nomination for governor.

The governor made the statement in reply to a statement from another candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, Frank Morrison, that Brooks should remove Conrad from the payroll while he is involved in political campaigning.

"He is removed. His pay is docked while he is gone," the governor said.

Conrad said Morrison's "petty personal attack is typical of a drowning politician going down for the sixth and last time."

Morrison had said he was "shocked at Gov. Brooks' statement in the press Tuesday that he would take over the menial details of state government, so that his office assistant could go out to campaign for the governorship."

Morrison asked: "Who is working for whom."

City Hall, Banks To Observe Arbor Day

Hotel Spokesmen Fight Minimum Wage Extension

Washington (AP) — Managers of plush resort hotels protested Wednesday that compelling them to pay a $1.25 an hour minimum wage would force up their rates and might put them out of business.

E. Truman Wright, vice president of the Greenbrier in White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., said proposed wage legislation would place "an unspeakable burden" on his kind of hotel.

Irving A. Harned, vice president of the Cloister Hotel at Sea Island, Ga., said competition is already tough enough with establishments in Mexico, Canada, and the West Indies and even overseas. He argued the Cloister would lose patronage if rates jumped—and "this could easily put us out of business."

Voice Views

Wright and Harned testified before a House labor subcommittee. They opposed bills to bring hotels under the federal wage and hour law. So did Robert A. Wright, who operates the Burke Motor Inn, a smaller place in Carroll, Iowa.

The subcommittee also received complaints from the Council of State Chambers of Commerce against legislation to raise the federal minimum from $1 to $1.25 and apply it to millions of additional workers.

Harned said the Cloister, where a family of 4 can part with $100 a day in the cut-rate summer months, retained less than 2c on the dollar in 1958. It grossed slightly more than 3 million that year. With a $125 minimum, Harned said, labor costs for bellhops, waiters and everyone else would force rates up 25% "to yield our present modest earnings."

Wright told the subcommittee that Greenbrier waiters and waitresses are paid 40c an hour but, with tips, collect more than $500 a month in season and at least $325 in the winter months.

And how are you going to figure tips into a minimum wage? Raise rates, pay the bellhop more and eliminate tipping? Harned gave his answer:

"It certainly hasn't worked in Europe where a service charge is added to your bill, and still you can't move without the proverbial outstretched palm."

Jaycees Name 7 As Directors

Seven members of the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce have been elected to the board of directors for two-year terms.

They are Charles Arnold, Frank Barrett, Don DeVries, Maynard Gottsch, Jack Holmquist, Carter Iddings and Dwain Jones.

Officers will be elected Saturday and will be announced at the Inaugural Ball Saturday night.

Other board members are Donn Davis, Walt Garner, Brien Hendrickson, Norm Krivosha, Bob Wagner, Jack Skalla and Ted Shepherd.

Sewage Plant Applications Are Requested

Request for applications for federal sewage treatment plant construction funds were sent to municipal officials throughout Nebraska Wednesday by State Health Director Dr. E. A. Rogers.

Communities interested in such projects must submit their applications to the Nebraska Water Pollution Control Council by June 30, said Dr. Rogers who is secretary of the Council.

The fiscal 1961 House appropriation bill now under consideration would allocate $677,575 to Nebraska for sewage treating plant construction grants.

The letter to municipal officals notes, however, that this amount is still subject to further congressional and presidential action.

The funds would be available from July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961. Federal law provides that the grants to communities shall equal not more than 30%, or $250,000, whichever is smaller, of the project's cost, with the community providing the remaining 70%.

Goodman Co. Hit By Damaging Fire

A fire at the Goodman Iron and Metal Co. at 1900 P caused an estimated $5,000 to $8,000 damage Wednesday morning

Only about $300 damage was reported to the shed in which the fire occurred, but damage to a rag baling machine and bales of rags and wire accounted for the major loss, firemen said. The cause was not determined.

Belmont Center Sets Membership Drive

A meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday for the captains of the drive. They will be given information and material for the campaign at the meeting.

CANDIDATES AND CONTESTS:

Existing Funds Would Finance $1.1 Million Convalescent Hospital

(Editor's Note: This is the sixth in a series of articles by Star staff members on the May 10 primary election.)

By Del Harding

Probably the least controversial issue to be voted upon May 10 will be the proposal to use existing county inheritance tax funds to build a $1.1 million convalescent hospital for county welfare patients.

There has been no organized opposition to the proposal, and proponents fear a lack of knowledge about the project is the issue's biggest enemy.

Proponents of the convalescent hospital emphasize these two points:

—The proposal is not a bond issue.

—The hospital will be for use of indigent county patients and is not an expansion of Lincoln General Hospital facilities, although it would be built adjacent to Lincoln General.

$675,000 On Hand

The county now has $675,000 on hand in its inheritance tax fund (money derived from estate taxes) and this together with $400,000 in federal aid would finance the 60-bed structure.

The county would contract with Lincoln General for such services as food, laundry and nurses. But the county would build and own the two-story structure.

The county's 4-member panel of physicians who treat county welfare patients would also treat the hospital's patients.

The City-County Health Dept., now located in the Municipal Building at 10th and R, and the County Dept. of Public Welfare, which now rents space at 1320 N, also would be housed in the new building.

PROPOSED COUNTY HOSPITAL . . . architect's conception.

Benefits Listed

Proponents of the care hospital say it would provide the following benefits:

—It would provide less expensive care for county patients not requiring acute hospital care but still too ill to be placed in a nursing home.

—It would provide much-needed space in the Municipal Building for the Police Dept. and the Municipal Court.

—It would provide 10 beds for housing mental patients until they can be committed to the State Hospital. The county does not now have such facilities.

—It would provide better care for the few patients now in nursing homes who need more care but whose condition does not justify placing them in a regular hospital.

Savings Cited

City-County Health Dept. Director George Underwood said it cost $93,000 during the 12-month period ending March 31 to care for county patients in regular hospitals.

Dr. Underwood estimated $23,000 could have been saved if such a convalescent hospital had been in existence.

(Only about $33,500 of the $93,000, however, was paid from county funds. The remainder came from state and federal funds.)

Dr. Underwood said it now costs $20-$22 a day to keep a county patient in a regular hospital. He estimated the comparable figure for a convalescent hospital would be $8-$10.

$7,000 Rent Saving

The Dept. of Public Welfare, headed by Mayme Stukel, now pays $7,000 a year for its privately-owned downtown quarters and this amount of county funds could be saved by housing this agency in the convalescent hospital.

There has, however, been talk of having the Civil Defense Office, now located in the Courthouse, move out and rent office space to alleviate the Courthouse's space shortage. So the rent saving might at least be partially offset by having to pay rent for Civil Defense quarters.

Dr. Underwood said the cost of caring for county nursing home patients for the 12-month period ending March 31 was $396,000 (of which the county share was $91,000).

But he said there are only a few nursing home patients who need to be placed in a convalescent hospital and that the establishment of such a facility probably would not result in any significant drop in county nursing home expenses.

4 U.S. Soldiers Hurt

Wuerzburg, Germany (AP) — Four U.S. infantrymen were killed and two others seriously hurt when an artillery shell exploded during a training exercise. A U.S. 3rd Infantry Division spokesman said the mishap occured at the Hohenfells training area in Bavaria. Names of the victims were withheld.

Frontier:

Week Costs $4,000 In Subsidy

Washington (AP) — Frontier Airlines, Denver, has told the Civil Aeronautics Board that every week of continued service over its northern Nebraska route will cost "well over $4,000 in federal subsidy."

"This is subsidy which the board probably would not have been willing to spend if it were not for the protection of the use-it-or-lose-it policy," Frontier said.

"It is obvious too high a price to allow that protection to be surrendered by needless procedural delays."

Frontier appealed for a quick decision on the pleadings that have been made, and opposed a lengthy hearing procedure such as has been requested by the Nebraska Department of Aeronautics.

Want Decision

Frontier said the CAB many times has granted route suspensions contested by civic groups, and said it is customary in suspension cases to proceed to a decision on the pleadings instead of going into lengthy action involving hearings.

"Nebraska knows that once it has assured itself of a formal hearing on Frontier's application it has assured itself at least another year and a half of heavily subsidized air service on segment 13," the airline said.

Frontier added that this is the first test of the CAB's use-it-or-lose-it policy and if Nebraska succeeds in turning it into a lengthy grievance session, the board can count on other groups learning the lesson fast.

Frontier said that instead of providing the minimum of 5 passengers a day, Ainsworth and Valentine, the only 2 cities which would be left without any air service by suspension, average 1.9 and 2.6 passengers a day.

18% Of Capacity

Instead of the 40 per cent full average load anticipated by the CAB over the northern Nebraska route in the first 18 months of operation, the planes averaged only 18 per cent of capacity between the 7th and the 18th month, Frontier said. And, it added, instead of an average passenger load of 7 the average was 3.8, while the revenue passenger miles amounted to only slightly more than two million compared with the forecast annual total of more then six million.

Frontier also filed an answer opposing a petition of the Nebraska Aeronautics Department for an investigation of the adequacy of Frontier's service.

The airline said that within the last year, which included one of the worst winters in Nebraska's history, it completed 91 per cent of its connections in the state.

Family Features

Dear Abby--

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Prom time is just around the corner and you could do so many girls a favor if you would print my suggestion:

Won't the mothers of SONS urge them to ask a girl to the prom? So many broken-hearted girls sit at home on prom night because the boys have stalled around and put off asking them until it is too late, so they just skip it. All girls can't be bestlookers and best-dancers and most-popular. But they all have hearts.

Believe me, no matter how plain a girl is, she would be glamorous that night and the boy would be glad he asked her. And the girl would live that night over and over again in her memories.

MOTHER OF TWO EACH

DEAR MOTHER: Thank you for your beautiful letter. I am starting on my own son tonight.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: We got into an argument in our English class. Our teacher said that if a plane crashed in the desert and no living being heard it, it didn't make a sound.

Two or three of us argued about it. I believe that if a stick of dynamite goes off, or if there is an explosion of any kind, whether anybody hears it or not, it still makes a sound. Am I right or is my teacher right?

DICK

DEAR DICK: A "sound" is a physical change in the atmosphere, induced in many ways, and conforms to certain known laws of physics. It CAN be recorded and proved, whether or not anyone is around to hear it.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I think my sister-in-law is trying to set a world's record. She is 27 years old and has ten children! Believe it or not, she hasn't been out of a maternity dress since she married my brother ten years ago. He is a nice guy, but he doesn't have a mind of his own.

The big problem is this: Whenever anyone in the family tries to tell her in a nice way that she has enough children, she gets mad and tells them to mind their own business.

They farm and don't need financial help, but the size of their family is the talk of the county. They act like it's something to be proud of. I think they are a disgrace. I'd like your opinion.

SISTER-IN-LAW

DEAR SISTER-IN-LAW: The size of the family is the business of the Mamma and Papa. If they are able to feed, clothe and educate all the children they have invited into the world, it's nobody's business but theirs. Now, don't you have a problem of your own?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HOW TO TELL HIM?" Tell him in English, and fast. It is easier to give back an engagement ring than a wedding ring.

Betrothal

Announcement has been made of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Julia Elizabeth Bowers, daughter of Mrs. Anderson Bowers of Verdon, and of Percival E. Bowers, Falls City, to Stephen H. Wiltse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer G. Wiltse of Falls City.

Opening lead—eight of diamonds.

It does not pay to double the opponents for business unless you are reasonably sure of defeating the contract. That is why you hear it stated so often that you should not double, ordinarily, unless you expect a two-trick set or more.

For example, suppose you double non-vulnerable opponents at four spades, expecting a one-trick set. If you are right, you gain 50 points—scoring 100 instead of the 50 you would have gotten by passing. But if you are wrong, and they make four spades doubled, the opponents pick up an extra 170 points as the result of the double.

In trying to gain 50 points, therefore, it may cost you 170. You are laying odds of almost three and a half to one that they will go down.

In duplicate bridge, where other factors enter the calculations, a close double is made more readily. The hand shown occurred in a duplicate, and West doubled, hoping for a one-trick (200-point) set.

He led a diamond and East won the king with the ace. East properly returned a trump and West took the jack. West led another diamond and East won with the ten.

East could now do nothing to defeat the contract. If he led a diamond, his side would wind up with three spades and two diamonds. And if he led a spade instead, the same result would accrue. Declarer would be able to discard his diamond loser on dummy's ace of hearts. So South made two spades doubled for a 670-point score.

However, the contract should have been defeated. West was at fault.

Upon winning the jack of spades at trick two, West should then also have cashed the ace. Then he could play the deuce of diamonds.

East would win the J-10 of diamonds, bringing his side to five tricks, and then lead the queen. Regardless of what declarer did, West would score his queen of spades for the 200-number.

Tight doubles require tight defense.

The Talk Around Town

—The week is improving with age, judging from the news that came our way this morning—But before we take on the events involving the home front, let's mention New Orleans, New York City, Europe, and eventually Algiers all of which have to do with Mr. and Mrs. Joe N. Gifford Jr., (Sue Muelhaupt —Kappa Alpha Theta at Nebraska).

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gifford are graduates of the University of Nebraska where Mr. Gifford, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Gifford of Minneapolis, formerly of Lincoln, is a Sig Alph. They, and their daughters, Sally and Susie, will leave New Orleans on June 1—will have a vacation in New York City, and en route to Algiers, North Africa, where they will be in residence for two years, they will travel in Europe.

You may remember that Mrs. Gifford has won nationwide recognition for her TV program for children.

* * *

—Now back home and a look-see at what's what and why.

First we'll tell you that Mr. and Mrs. William Chamberlin, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Noble, Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Johnston, Dr. and Mrs. G. T. Warren and Mr. and Mrs. George Neal were hosts and hostesses at dinner on Wednesday evening when they entertained in prenuptial courtesy to Miss Mary Patricia Hathaway and Tom Becker of Washington, D.C., whose marriage will take place on Saturday evening. Dinner places were arranged for 18, and the honorees were presented with a host and hostess gift.

Out of town guests at the dinner included Miss Hathaway's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hathaway of Hampton, Va., and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Hathaway of Newport News, Va.

* * *

—The wedding of Miss Hathaway and Mr. Becker is bringing other guests to Lincoln. Mr. Becker's brother, Wallace Becker, will arrive from Chicago today and will spend the week end as the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry A. Becker.

And also from Chicago on Thursday will come Mr. and Mrs. Robert McBride and their two sons, Stephen and Jeffrey, who will attend the Hathaway - Becker wedding, and who will be the week end guests of Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Wegner.

Arriving from Washington, D.C. on Friday to spend the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Devries, and to serve as an usher at the Saturday evening wedding, will be Bill Devries.

GS Council Meets

Mrs. E. A. Frerichs was honored Wednesday afternoon for her years of service for the Lincoln Girl Scouts at the annual meeting of the Jay-Husker Girl Scout Council.

Convention Speaker

Miss Virginia Allan of Wyandotte, Mich., national membership chairman of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, will be a featured speaker at the 42nd annual convention of the Nebraska Federation of the organization on Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Superior.

Executive vice president of her family's chain of drug stores, Miss Allan is widely known for her work in the educational field especially for her "job upgrading program" in the Detroit schools. Chief Carroll Honored For 'Good Government'

Lincoln Police Chief Joe T. Carroll was presented the Junior Chamber of Commerce annual Good Government Award at its noon luncheon meeting Wednesday.

Dwain L. Jones, chairman of the Good Government Committee, cited Carroll for his success in staffing and training the police force on a minimum budget, meanwhile maintaining a high standard of police protection.

He pointed out that recent adverse publicity involving police departments in other cities helped bring about the realization that Carroll's efforts were responsible for giving Lincolnites a better than average police force.

Mayor Pat Boyles praised the chief for the work he has carried on in spite of a minimum budget and lack of staff members.

Spirit Unequaled

"He has maintained a spirit and morale which I think is unegualed," Mayor Boyles said.

Carroll, 50, started as a patrolman on the force in 1930 while a student at the University of Nebraska. He became a captain in 1938 and chief in 1941.

Jones pointed out that the force had grown from 65 to 100 officers during Carroll's tenure, while Lincoln's population has increased by some 50,000.

Carroll is a member of Holy Family Catholic Church, Knights of Columbus, Elks and the Executive Club.

Demo Meeting Set In Lincoln This Saturday

Lincoln Star Special

Newcastle — Democratic State Chairman Russell Hanson Wednesday called a meeting of key Democrats in Lincoln Saturday to "strengthen the party organization at the county level."

The gathering of 10 to 15 party workers "will enable the party to organize active workers in each precinct of every county," Hanson said.

The Democratic chairman predicted that the fall campaign will be "one of the most active in recent political history."

Meanwhile, Hanson announced that the annual Democratic "party night" in each organized Nebraska county will be held sometime after the May 10 primary election.

The date will be announced at a later time so as not to conflict with the party's giant Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner celebration in Omaha May 7, Hanson said.

4-Inch Numerals And All, 14-Footer Ready For Seas

By Betty Person

It looks like a "sea-going signboard," but it's going to be a law-abiding 14-foot fishing boat no matter what its cost in time, trouble, money and laughs.

Rogers

State Health Director Dr. E. A. Rogers was describing Wednesday his experiences of the past 4 months in making his fishing vessel conform to the voluminous boat regulation law passed by the 1959 Legislature.

First off he had to prove he had paid his taxes on the boat last year. But the Court House had no forms, so Dr. Rogers became the "pioneer."

Sending the bundle of data to the Game Commission, it was returned . . . He had not assured them he was a citizen of the United States.

Dutifully informing them he was such a citizen, he then was assigned the number certificate his craft will carry — or which will carry the craft, depending upon how you look at it.

Nebraska is the only state in the union which requires that boats shall be numbered with letters and figures with the sizeable measurements of 3 inches in width and 4 inches in height, and made of light-reflective material.

Only one manufacturer produces such letters and numbers, and it was hard-pressed to meet the demands of Nebraska boaters.

Dr. Rogers wound up with 7 numbers and letters stretched across the port and starboard sides of his boat — which prompted his comment that it "looks like a sea-going signboard, but I'll say this, they'll be legible."

Nebraska's interest in legibility doesn't stop there. The law also requires that the boat must be equipped with life preservers which bear legible markings proving such equipment is U.S. Coast Guard approved.

The doctor had plenty of "perfectly good" life preservers aboard his craft, but time had erased the Coast Guard's stamp of approval — so these had to be cast aside and new ones purchased.

Time was when Dr. Rogers could hoist that boat atop his car and take off for the nearest lake — that was when it weighed 110 pounds. But the new law requires a number of items which have increased its weight considerably — so he bought a boat trailer.

Also required now are a red light on the port side, a green light on the starboard side, and a white light on a mast at the stern. This meant an investment in a battery and wiring, as well as the lights.

Other items required: a wide-vision, rear-view mirror at $8.75 (so you can tell if a water skier has taken a dip in the drink), and a fire extinguisher which weighs 15 pounds and costs $22.50.

But Dr. Rogers outfoxed them when it came to the requirement for an alarm-sounding device which will give a sustained two-second blast. With a gleam in his eye, he reported that rather than investing in an expensive compressed gas-powered horn — he bought a referee's whistle.

"I figure I can blow that thing steadily for two seconds even if I do get blue in the face doing it," Dr. Rogers asserted.

Game Commission Director Mel Steen has assured him the whistle will meet the law requirements "and I hope he has told his deputies the same thing," said Dr. Rogers.

In fairness to all, Dr. Rogers doesn't want to leave the impression that he's compaining—he isn't—he firmly believes in water safety, and he's glad Nebraska has such a sufficient set of regulations.

Nebraska is one of the few states whose laws are so sufficient in meeting U.S. Coast Guard standards that Dr. Rogers can take his 14-foot boat out on any lake, river or ocean there is. So stand by, captains of the fleet, consider yourselves so advised and make way for the Cornhuskers.

McCormick 2-Hits Bums

. . . Giants Win, 1-0

San Francisco (AP) —Lefthander Mike McCormick threw a two-single shutout at Los Angeles' world champions Wednesday as the San Francisco Giants grabbed a 1-0 victory and moved into a tie with the Dodgers for the National League lead.

McCormick, who tossed a 3-hitter at the St. Louis Cardinals in his 1st start this season, won a pitchers' duel with righthander Don Drysdale.

Don Blasingame singled home the Giants' run in the 5th with two out.

The hit scored Willie Kirkland who had singled and advanced on an infield out and McCormick's bunt.

McCormick struck out 3 and gave up only one walk—to leadoff man Jim Gilliam in the first inning. Drysdale had won his first 2 starts. He gave up only 5 singles in going the route.

Gil Hodges singled in the 7th but was erased on a double play as McCormick faced only 29 batters.

The Giants stole 3 bases and the Dodgers two. In their first 7 games, San Francisco runners have successfully stolen 11 times in 13 attempts.

Vern Law Puts Down Phils, 4-2

Pittsburgh (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 4-2 Wednesday night behind the 7-hit pitching of Vernon Law.

The victory was the second of the year for the lanky righthander.

The Pirates got only 6 hits off the combined pitching of Don Cardwell, Ruben Gomez and Dick Farrell, but they managed to bunch them effectively.

Fullmer (right) Using His Head

Giardello Scores Draw With King

. . . Fullmer Retains Middleweight Title

Bozeman, Mont. (AP)—Sturdy Gene Fullmer and Joey Giardello battled 15 bitter rounds to a draw Wednesday night as Fullmer retained the National Boxing Assn. version of the world middleweight title.

There were several minutes of wild confusion at ringside before Sonny O'Day, chairman of the Montana State Athletic Commission, came up with an official announcement that Fullmer had retained the title.

At first the commissioner debated whether to declare the vote of referee Harry Kessler for Giardello as the decisive factor.

After a consultation with other officials he climbed into mid ring and grabbed the microphone to confirm the draw decision.

"Under the official rules of boxing," said O'Day, "the decision has to be a draw. Fullmer retains his title."

Referee Kessler, an import from St. Louis, called it 145-142 in favor of Giardello. Judge Jay Evans of Butte scored it for Fullmer 145-142. Judge Billy McFarland called it all even, 145-145.

The AP card had it 145-145 and all even in rounds.

The brawl was marked by a fierce head-butting duel in the 4th round when Kessler stopped the contest for several seconds and warned both fighters. The blood was streaming from a cut under Giardello's right eye and from a gash on Fullmer's forehead.

For a moment it seemed Fullmer, thoroughly disgusted, was going to climb through the ropes.

When they resumed they really ripped into each other with both hands.

There were no knockdowns in their wild affair, staged before about 12,000 in the modern fieldhouse of Montana State College.

The crowd, normally favoring Fullmer, seemed to think Giardello deserved the decision. They booed the draw and cheered for Kessler's verdict. They yelled again when Giardello's handlers hoisted him on their shoulders in midring.

Giardello, a 3 to 1 underdog, surprised the big crowd at Montana's 1st title fight in 37 years by moving with speed even in the last half of the fight. It had been expected that Fullmer's body punches would take the steam out of him.

However, Fullmer closed strong to win the 14th and 15th on Kessler's card and the 15th in Evans' scoring.

Judge McFarland scored the 13th and 14th even and called the 15th for Giardello in arriving at his draw verdict.

Shortstop Perks Lincoln's Stock

. . . Chiefs Add Jose Valladares

By Don Bryant

Hollywood, Fla. — Lincoln Chiefs stock went up considerably on the final day of spring training.

Manager Ira Hutchinson had been faced with the prospect of opening the season with a mediocre second baseman at shortstop. But Wednesday the Lincoln skipper obtained the services of veteran shortstop Jose Valladares.

Drop Duran

The Cuban infielder arrived here—after some contract and visa difefrence—and immediately was assigned to the Lincoln club, enabling Hutchinson to drop Julio Duran, a second-sacker who had been shifted to short to fill the Chiefs' gap.

However, Valladares won't join the Chiefs on their journey to Cedar Rapids for the season opener Sunday. Hutch and the remainder of the squad will depart from Hollywood via train at noon today.

Valladares will be kept in camp and given 3 days of extensive conditioning work and then he'll fly to Cedar Rapids Sunday in time for the opener. There were signs Wednesday that other help may be arriving soon, also.

Two Spots Empty

When the Chiefs wound up training Wednesday afternoon, all but 2 spots on the roster had been filled. Hutch indicated he would like to take some additional pitchers, but he had not decided on which ones.

"I may decide on one or two Thursday morning before we go," he said. "There are some fine pitchers left in camp and I may grab a couple."

In addition to Valladares, Hutch Wednesday awarded Lincoln jobs to Ron Teunis, a member of the 1959 mound staff until he was drafted. Ron is only the 3rd player off last year's squad to win a return ticket. The others are outfielder Pug Williamson and Valladares, who played 7 games at short before being sent to Duluth-Superior early in the year.

16-11 Record

Also slated for a train ride north is Al Madigan, 24-year-old lefthander, who posted a 16-11 record at Clinton last year. Al is the 2nd southpaw tabbed by Hutch. The other is Bob Gruber, who with Dennis Higgins and Ron Woods, were named to the squad Wednesday morning.

Madigan is 6-0, weighs 180 and is a resident of St. Paul, Minn. Teunis was one of the top chuckers on the 1959 Chiefs until he was drafted. At that point he had a 9-6 record and had looked impressive on several occasions.

A graduate of Purdue, where he starred in baseball, Teunis is a native of Grand Rapids, Mich. He's 24, stands 6-1 and weighs 175.

Valladares, a resident of Havana, Cuba., is 28 stands 5-6 and weighs 150. He looks in good shape, but White Sox officials wanted to work him pretty hard for 3 days before sending him to Cedar Rapids. In 1957 he hit .283 in Class D, hit .263 in Class C the following year and .267 at Lincoln last year before compiling a .251 mark at Duluth-Superior. While no terror with the bat, he's a more than adequate glove man and should beef up the Chiefs infield considerably.

Roster Listed

Here's the Lincoln roster, with last year's record, as of departur time:

Infielders — Gary Johnson (.277), Al Weis (.275), Monte Bond (rookie), Jose Valladares (251).

Outfielders — Dean Look (rookie), Gene Duffy (.262), Pug Williamson (.292), Paul Higgs (.282).

Catchers—Ken Eeles (.214), Dave Chitkowski (rookie)

Pitchers — Tony Filicchia (14-2), Jose Lizandro (11-5), Jerry Moeller, (9-8) Bob Gruber (1-0), Al Madigan (16-11), Ron Teunis (9-6), Dennis Higgins (9-11 and Ron Woods (6-3).

Final Analysis

Final spring training wind-up analysis:

The Chiefs have fine pitching potential, definitely more color and enthusiasm than the 1959 club, the defense—infield and outfield—is as good or better (at several spots), the hitting attack is not exceptionally potent and there is a decided lack of power.

But with possible help still coming and fellows like Look, Duffy, Williamson, Filicchia, Weis and Valladares, the 1960 Chiefs shouldn't have any trouble putting on a much improved show over their 1959 predecessors.

Seymour Hired By St. Louis

. . . Macauley To GM

St. Louis (AP)—Paul Seymour was named coach of the St. Louis Hawks Wednesday night, succeeding Easy Ed Maculey.

Macauley, who won two regular season Western Division titles in two years as coach of the National Basketball Assn. team, became general manager. He remains a vice president.

The hiring of Seymour and the appointment of Macauley to a front office job confirms an Associated Press story of March 25.

Seymour resigned last month after 4 years as coach of the Syracuse Nationals. He becomes owner Ben Kerner's 14th coach in 13 seasons.

Seymour signed a three-year contract said to call for about $20,000-a-year.

The signing of Seymour was Macauley's first official duty as Hawk's general manager. Both Seymour and Macauley are 32.

Kerner, who vigorously denied Macauley would be replaced by Seymour, said Easy Ed had suggested Paul as his successor.

"Ed talked to Paul and worked out the agreement," Kerner said.

Husker Torczon Signs With Bills

Buffalo, N.Y. (UPI) — Laverne Torczon, a star lineman from the University of Nebraska, has signed a contract with the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League, it was announced Wednesday.

The 24-year-old Torczon played for Nebraska 3 varsity seasons. He made the All-Big Seven team in 1955 and 1956. He was named Nebraska's most valuable player in '56.

PULLED MUSCLE SIDELINES TED

Boston, (AP) — Veteran Ted Williams was missing from the Red Sox lineup Wednesday in the second game of the series against the New York Yankees.

The 41-year-old Williams pulled a muscle in the calf of his right leg Tuesday while rounding the bases after hitting his second home run in as many days. There was no estimate as to the length of his inactivity.

Bobby Thomson, veteran outfielded, moved into Williams' left field position while Marty Keough took over in center field.

Texans Snap Relay Marks

Andrews, Texas, High School broke a pair of National Scholastic track relay records last week, the first national marks to go this year.

The Andrews school clipped the 440 relay in 41.9 and then whipped a 3:15.2 clocking in the mile relay. Three boys ran on both teams.

The listed 440 record is 42.0 by Boys High of Brooklyn in 1948 and Breckenridge, Texas in 1958. Baytown, Texas, holds the listed mile mark of 3:17.9.

Clipping nearly 3 seconds off the mile record is a real feat for Andrews. It's absolutely amazing what high school lads can do.

There doesn't appear to be a Nebraskan around who can threaten seriously any of the current national prep marks. Even hurdler Bob Hohn of Beatrice is far from these records.

The high hurdle mark is 13.8, compared to Bob's best of 14.4. In the lows, the record of 18.5 (held by Kansas Charlie Tidwell) is far under Hohn's impressive 19.1 on a curve.

Weather An Excuse?

It is, perhaps, too easy to accept Nebraska's poor spring weather and short season as an excuse for the state's lack of a threat to these records.

Nebraska has had national record-holders before. In fact, I'm not sure but what the state is still represented, after a fashion.

Wibbels

Up until a couple years ago, Edsel Wibbels held the prep record for the college weight discus, set for Wolbach in 1937. The Columbus coach hurled the platter 154-9.

Current record lists don't carry the category anymore. Northern California, I believe, was the last section of the nation to use the college disc, and has now dropped down to the prep size.

I don't know whether Wibbels record was broken before the cutdown, or not.

A 1925 Norfolk quartet held the national 880 relay record briefly at 1:32.

Lincoln High's Howard Debus set a high school weight discus record of 174-2½ in 1940.

Debus

It's true that other states may not have been emphasizing track as much in those days, but neither was Nebraska. If Nebraskans could set records then, there is no reason why it can't be done now.

But it's unlikely. Nebraska has fallen far behind national records in all events. Even though the Cornhusker lads continue to show great improvement, so does the rest of the nation.

But that record-breaker might come along in Nebraska any day now. You never know.

Kaline's Home Run Provides 6-4 Win

. . . Cash Also Connects

Cleveland (AP)—Rocky Colavito, Norm Cash and Al Kaline hit home runs Wednesday to lead the Detroit Tigers to a 6-4 decision over the Cleveland Indians and a sweep of their two-game series.

Kaline's homer into the left field stands in the 9th inning proved to be the winning run. It was Kaline's two-run single in the 15th inning of Tuesday's opener that gave the Tigers a 4-2 victory.

The Tigers scored an insurance run in the 9th on a walk to Colavito and a triple to left field by Steve Bilko.

The winner was Tom Morgan, the second of 3 Detroit pitchers, who set the Indians down in order in the 8th inning after starter Don Mossi was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the top of the 8th. Paul Foytack hurled the 9th inning for Detroit.

The loss went to starter Jim Perry, who was charged with all the Tiger runs.

The Indians took the lead in the 5th, scoring a run on Walter Bond's sacrifice fly to right field after Eddie Yost, Detroit third baseman made 3 errors to tie a modern major league record for the most errors by a 3rd baseman in one inning. Yost fumbled John Temple's grounder and then threw wild to first base, being charged with two errors.

Gardner Hit Drops Old Mates, 8-7

Baltimore (AP)—A single by former Oriole Billy Gardner over the head of the second base rookie who took his place, drove in the winning run for the Washington Senators Wednesday night in an 8-7 victory over Baltimore.

Gardner's drive over Marvin Breeding sent home Billy Consolo, who had tripled, with the deciding run in the 8th inning of the give-and-take game before 11,087 fans.

West Virginia Selects Corum

Morgantown, W.Va. (AP) — West Virginia dipped into its own ranks Wednesday and named Gene Corum, 38-year-old assistant coach, as its new head football mentor.

Corum, a native of Huntington, W.Va., was elevated to fill the vacancy created by the resignation last Monday of Art (Pappy) Lewis. Lewis is going into the pro football ranks as a scout and coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Corum, as head coach, will have two vacancies to fill on his staff.

LHS, NE Hurlers In Star Roles

Pitchers provided the offense and defense as Lincoln High inaugurated 1960 baseball with a 2-1 verdict over Northeast Wednesday.

Links chucker Mickey McGuire stuck out 11 while dishing up an assortment of fast balls and curves keeping the Rockets off balance.

Opposing hurler Mel Hester banged out 3 singles for all Northeast's hits.

Hester was also masterful while rationing 4 singles. His mates' poor fielding erased the effort with two unearned runs.

The Links' winning tally came in the 4th when Doug Osterholm was struck by a pitched ball, moved to 3rd on Tom Nystrom's single to center and scored automatically when the throw from the outfield skipped by Steve McMillan.

High winds swept Nystrom's pop foul into fair territory for a base hit scoring LHS's other run in the opening frame.

Hester's close-liner to left field chased home Jim Marple with Northeast's run in the 4th.

Lincoln High opens Inter-City League warfare at home against Creighton Prep at 2:45 Friday.

Cincy Explosion Blisters Braves, 10-5

Milwaukee (AP)— The battling Cincinnati Reds, fired up for the big bat of shortstop Roy McMillan and the ouster of manager Fred Hutchinson, pushed across 5 runs in a 10th inning uprising Wednesday to belt the Milwaukee Braves 10-5.

McMillan, a lightly regarded hitter who has a .250 lifetime average, drove in 5 runs with a pair of homers and 3 singles in the 3 hour and 22 minute marathon.

The Reds, held to 5 hits for 8 innings, erupted for 3 runs to go ahead 5-4 in the 9th, lost the advantage as the Braves knotted the count in their half and then exploded.

With Hutchinson and second baseman Billy Martin in the clubhouse after being banished for heckling and arguing with plate umpire Frank Dascoli, Cincinnati sent 10 men to the plate in the decisive rally.

The Reds employed 22 players while the Braves used 19 in the long struggle. Cincinnati had 14 hits and Milwaukee 13.

No Teeth, No Whistle, No Goal

Copenhagen (AP)—A Danish soccer club is up in arms because a referee searched for his lost false teeth during a league match—and missed a goal.

Referee Henning Erikstrup lost his teeth just as he was about to blow the final whistle, and spent several costly minutes recovering them. In the meantime, the Ebeltoft team scored a goal to tie Noerager, 4-4.

Erikstrup promptly blew his whistle, cancelled the goal, and awarded a 4-3 victory to Noerager.

Ebeltoft protested that the match had not ended formally when they scored the fourth goal.

Erikstrup admits this, but claims extraordinary circumstances.

"Why, I simply had to get my teeth back. Otherwise, some player might have put his big boot on them and crushed them," he said.

Sox' Casale Rips Yanks

Boston (AP) — Jerry Casale doubled home two runs and the porous New York infield gave away another pair Wednesday for Boston's 7-1 triumph over the Yankees.

Casale, the big Red Sox righthander from Brooklyn, turned in a sparkling 5-hit pitching job made even more impressive by the bone-chilling breezes through which he toiled.

In Boston's decisive 4-run second inning, it was Casale's two bagger down the left field line with the bases loaded which was the big blow.

Yankee starter Bob Turley, using his no-windup delivery, lasted for two innings, 61 pitches, 5 runs, 4 hits and two costly errors.

After Casale doubled in the second, Don Buddin tagged a sacrifice fly to center to give the Sox a 4-0 bulge. A walk to Malzone put runners on first and second before Gene Stephens grounded to shortstop Tony Kubek. In his haste to make the force play at second, Kubek threw the ball away for a two base error and Casale brought in the 5th tally.

Casale, who had a 13-8 record last year, produced the Red Sox first triumph in 3 tries in the infant American League season.

The Boston ace, a major league "sophomore," surrendered the Yankee run in the 3rd. Kubek opened with a double over first base and came around on Roger Maris' single to center.

Of the last 19 batters to face Casale, only 3 reached base. The Sox strong man had retired 12 in a row before Bobby Richardson doubled to run to 21 games a hitting streak which reaches back to last season. Mickey Mantle and Elston Howard drew 9th inning walks before Casale got Kubek on an infield popup to end the contest.

Northeast Subs Stop LHS 5-4

Northeast's reserve baseball team came from behind in the last of the 7th inning to defeat Lincoln High's seconds 5-4 Thursday at Northeast.

Trailing 4-3 going into the last frame, the Rockets tied on Gene Jeffries' 290-foot home run and scored the winning tally when Ron Fox walked, stole second and was singled home by Larry Staberg.

Another South Africa Golfer Grabs Attention

. . . At New Orleans Open

New Orleans (AP) — Despite the presence of some of golf's big names, a fledgling from South Africa Wednesday demanded some attention on the eve of the $27,000 greater New Orelans Open.

Harold Henning, another in the line of fine golfers from the tip of the dark continent, came in with a 3-under-par 68 in the pro-amateur that precedes the open. The 25-year-old Henning is trying his hand for the first time against the touring pros.

But most of the favorite talk centered around quiet, methodical Dow Finsterwald. The Tequesta, Fla., pro is well on his game, as evidenced by a second-place finish in the Greensboro, N.C., Open over the weekend. He tied for 7th in last year's renewal of the New Orleans.

Others believed close to the throne room included British Open champion Gary Player of South Africa, Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla., and Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y.

Defending champion Bill Collins wasn't mentioned among the first flight, but the Baltimore belter said he found the city park course in better shape than last year. Collins has been a little less than a ball of fire on this year's tour.

Trial May 23

Judge Manasil set the case for trial May 23.

Walter Lee Pflugge had been arraigned April 4 on conspiracy charges and he is free on bond.

The State Department of Banking liquidated the bank last year after examiners found more than $170,000 missing.

Robert Merlyn Martin, 34, vice president of the bank, has been sentenced to one year on federal charges of embezzlement and making false entries. He is a son-in-law of Bishop.

Larson Building Cornerstone Ceremonies Monday At Peru

Peru — The cornerstone of the new A. V. Larson Industrial Arts Building on the Peru State Teachers College campus will be laid at 2:30 p.m., Monday, April 25.

Larson

Named for A. V. Larson, a member of the Peru State faculty from 1926 until his retirement in August, 1958, the new $500,000 building is scheduled for completion by Sept. 1.

When Mr. Larson came to Peru State in February, 1926, he was the only member of the industrial arts faculty. At the time of his retirement, the staff included 3 members; and the Practical Arts Division, which he had served as head since 1945, included 8 members. During his years at Peru State, Mr. Larson's name had become synonymous with industrial arts.

Members of the Grand Lodge A.F. & A.M. of Nebraska will be in charge of the cornerstone ceremony. Dr. William A. Brandenburg, president of Nebraska State Teachers College at Wayne, and Grand Orator of the Grand Lodge, will give the address.

The April meeting of the Board of Education of State Normal Schools will be held on the Peru State campus in conjunction with the event. State officials, civic leaders, and educators from the area have been invited to be guests.

Indifference To Tax Bills Hit

Omaha (UPI) — Taxation is not so complex that the average citizen cannot understand it, former state Tax Commissioner Fred Harrington told the Nebraska Telephone Assn. convention Wednesday.

Herrington, executive director of the Nebraska Citizens Council, spoke at the final session of the 3-day 60th annual convention.

Also on the speaking schedule was Joseph Brown, chairman of the Nebraska State Railway Commission.

Jack Dwyer, Hartington, was elected president for the coming year, replacing Neil Young of Cozad, who remains as a director.

J. E. Nelson was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the association. The 1961 convention will be held at Lincoln.

Herrington told the delegates that despite a total of 50 separate tax bills which were presented at the last session of the legislature, only a handful of people appeared at the hearings.

Most prominent among these, he said, were lobbyists.

"The lobbyist does not carry the weight of influence which could have been achieved by sincere, reasonable, tolerant, substantial citizens," he said.

In the case of federal spending, "the indifference is even greater,' he said.

Brown told the group that this is the time for renewed effort and determination to demonstrate to Americans first and to the world at large that the public interest is best served when vital public services are provided under private auspices as a free enterprise.

Earlier former Nebraska Gov. Robert B. Crosby called on business to actively participate in politics, "for participation will form the destiny of future generations."

"The idea of an individual attacking business and sticking up for the little people is a sham," Crosby said, "for it is the little people who make up business, whether they are employers or employes."

"Our state and federal governments need two strong parties, and it is part of every citizen's civic duty to participate in politics, whether Democrat or Republican, just as important as your work and family. None can be neglected," he said.

"Every organized group should participate in the shaping of the part that government should take, for what we shape in government now will have a detailed effect on our children," Crosby said. The former governor has been an outspoken critic of state Sen. Terry Carpenter, Scottsbluff, one of 6 candidates for the Republican nominaton for governor.

C. D. Sayre, Lincoln, public relations director of Consumers Public power district, outlined to the nearly 300 delegates the work being done on the nuclear reactor power plant at Hallam.

CAUSE OF BLAZE SNUFFING OUT 4 YOUNG LIVES PROBED

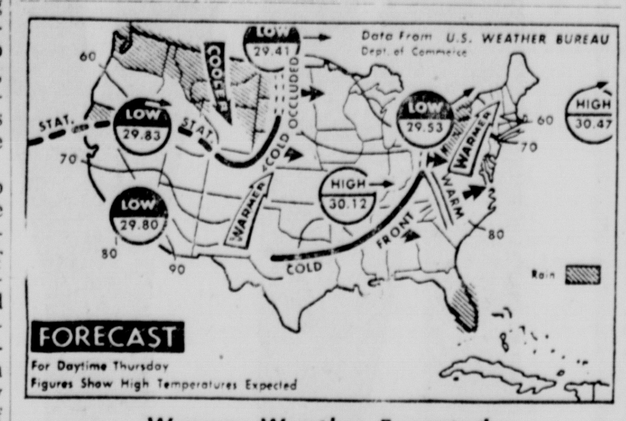

Omaha (UPI)—Omaha fire investigators sifted through the ashes of a near North Side house Wednesday attempting to learn the cause of a fire which took the lives of 4 small children.

Chief Fire Investigator Dan Mulcahey said the blaze apparently started in the kitchen of the story-and-one-half home (at 1813 N. 23rd St.) and quickly raced through the building.

Killed in the blaze were Aneta McGee, 6; Dover Ann Carter, 2; Donna Marie Carter, 6 months, and Freddie Carter, 5, the children of Mrs. Dorothy Carter, 26.

The mother was attending a movie at the time of the fire and the children were being tended by their grandmother, Mrs. Anna Higdon, 66. Mulcahey questioned Mrs. Higdon, who was hospitalized for shock, concerning the fire.

Mrs. Higdon said she left the house to get the children's tricycles out of the yard when she smelled smoke and looked up to find the back of the house on fire.

Warmer Weather Expected

Showers are forecast Thursday for the northwest Pacific states, northern Rockies, and western parts of the northern Plains. Some rain can be expected in the lower east coast area. Eastern Great Lakes and central Appalachians can expect rain, with thunderstorm activity over the Tennessee Valley. It will be warmer in the northeast and northern and central Plains and cooler in the northwest. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Bank Head Takes Stand In Shirley Clark Trial

North Platte (AP) —The taking of evidence began Wednesday afternoon in the trial of Shirley Clark, 31, former McCook bank teller charged with embezzlement on false entries.

One witness was heard following opening statements to the jury by assistant U.S. District Attorney Bill Morrow and defense attorney Charles M. Bosley of Palisade.

Morrow outlined the charges against Miss Clark, declaring that she removed from the control of the bank money entrusted to her. Bosley said the evidence would show that she did not embezzle the funds. He declared she was only a minor employe of the bank.

The first witness was John Van Auken, president of the First National Bank of McCook, where Miss Clark formerly was employed. The principal part of his testimony was the identification of 92 exhibits consisting of bank records.

He testified that Shirley Clark and Max Billesbach were in charge of the vault at the bank.

Billesbach, who was formerly cashier and head teller of the bank, entered a plea of no contest to charges of embezzlement and false entry and was sentenced to 3 years imprisonment in October, 1958.

The federal complaint against Billesbach alleged embezzlement of some $200,000. He told Federal Judge Robert Van Pelt in Lincoln more than half of the $200,000 was spent gambling.

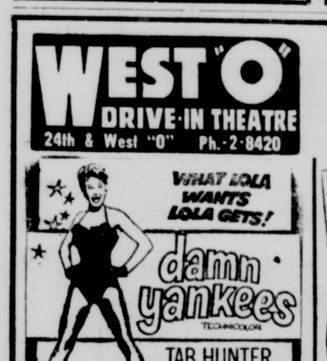

Miss Clark is being tried before Chief Federal District Judge Richard E. Robinson of Omaha. Judge Robinson held the court in session until nearly 1 p.m. Wednesday before calling a recess for lunch in order to permit the completion of a jury. The jury consists of one woman and 11 men, with two male alternates.

Production Limit Recommendation Sought From Western Oil Operators

Sidney (AP) — The Nebraska Oil and Gas Conservation Commission will ask the 4 oil operators in the Kimball County Brook field to recommend a production limit to the commission.

Effective Saturday, the commission will issue a 90-day temporary order limiting production to 200 barrels per well daily in the field, according to Commission Director H. N. Rhodes of Sidney. Actually, the order will be extension of a temporary order first issued March 14.

Rhodes said the commission will ask that the 4 operators "get together" to make recommendations as to the quantity to be produced and the method by which the quantity will be allocated to wells in the field.

The 4 operators in the field are Pan America Petroleum Corp., Enbrook Oil and Gas Co., Sunburst Petroleum Co. and Brinkerhoff Drilling Co.

He said the commission wants to receive the report within 60 days, effective Saturday, and added that if a recommendation is not reached "a limit will be set which the commission feels is reasonable."

Testimony in the case was heard last week. The commission would like to limit production in the field to prevent waste and to insure maximum production from the prolific pool, which now has 10 producing oil wells — all in one section.

More Evidence Asked

Rhodes said since the hearing last week, two applications have been received asking to present additional evidence. The request came from Sunburst and from A. T. Skaer and W. H. Young, who have working interests in the Enbrook wells.

In another action at a special conference, the commission agreed on semi-annual bottom hole pressure surveys in the Ackerman field in Red Willow County. The commission approved its own application for special rules in the field, including the establishment of 40-acre drilling and spacing units for oil wells.

Alma Woman Fatally Hurt

Mrs. Hattie Clay, 68, of Alma was killed Tuesday night in a car-truck collision on U.S. 183 at the west edge of Alma, the State Safety Patrol reported Wednesday.

Mrs. Clay was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Jesse W. Clay, 63.

The patrol identified the truck driver as Charles E. Burg, 23, of Phillipsburg, Kan.

The patrol report said the northbound Clay car was making a left turn at the time of the collision with the southbound truck.

The death raised Nebraska's traffic fatality total for the year to 53, compared with 75 at this time a year ago.

Press Report Hits Secrecy In Capital

By Sterling F. Green

Washington (AP)—The struggle against governmental secrecy has made progress in Congress, but met some setbacks in the administration, the Freedom of Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors reported Wednesday.

In a summary to be presented Thursday at the opening of ASNE's annual meeting, Eugene S. Pulliam Jr., vice chairman of the committee, said that "sweeping claims of executive privilege" — exempting agencies from opening their records to the public—"have popped up like mushrooms this year."

"The importance of the people's right to know needs to be told and retold and retold. We, as a profession, are improving but we still haven't even convinced the majority of our readers that this fight is as important to them as it is to us."

Some momentary success was achieved in the society's perennial battle with the Pentagon, said Pulliam, managing editor of the Indianapolis News, but the gains are evaporating. He reported:

"Figures on U.S. military aid to foreign nations were published for the first time, and the new secretary of defense, Thomas S. Gates Jr., announced that he and his top subordinates 'must operate in an open, glass-roofed house.'

Two Press Conferences

"That was 4½ months ago. He's held two press conferences since and his secretaries have a worse record.

"Some other of his subordinates didn't get the word. An Air Force manual contained a reference to the 'rather foolish notion that the American people hav a right to know what's going on.'

"Despite attempts at explanation, that phrase exposed clearly the still prevalent view in Washington—and elsewhere—that official decisions to suppress information really are not debatable, and that those who feel otherwise are fools."

On the other hand, Pulliam said, the Senate has followed the lead of the House and opened up its payroll records and bills are pending to limit the power of executive agencies to suppress information and to prevent Federal Courts from restricting the reporting of criminal cases.

Kennedy Takes Hop Through Mine Area

Montgomery, W. Va. (AP) — Folks in the strongly Protestant coal mining sections of southern West Virginia got their first look Wednesday at Senator John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), a Catholic who has brought up the religious issue head-on in speeches elsewhere this week.

There was some doubt as to the vote-getting value of Kennedy's campaign visit. To a great extent, the audiences were too young to vote for Kennedy or anyone else in the May 10 presidential preference primary.

Kennedy and Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) will be on the ballot as rival candidates for the favor of mountain state voters. The result will not be binding on delegates to the Democratic national convention.

At Oak Hill, Gauley Bridge and Montgomery, 3 of the first 5 stops, Kennedy spoke in high school gymnasiums. The audiences consisted of the student body in each case, with adults filling the space left over.

The theme of Kennedy's remarks in this section was about the food that is distributed in the mining areas and elsewhere. He said 4 million Americans depend upon surplus foods distributed by the Department of Agriculture.

"But what kind of food is it?" he asked. "Flour, rice and corn meal — sometimes some butter, cheese and dry skimmed milk —and more rice and corn meal."

That diet, said the candidate, "is not the basis of a decent existence."

Rural Fund Drive Hits $3,000 Mark

The Rural Fund Campaign has exceeded the $3,000 mark, according to Jack Stewart, Lancaster County Red Cross chairman.

Stewart complimented the co-chairmen of the drive, Elmer Christiansen and Dale Nelson, at the group's executive board meeting.

The Rural Fund Campaign is held for areas of Lancaster County not covered in the Community Chest and Red Cross United Campaign held in October.

Fire Damage Slight

A fire at Burlington tool shed at the switch tower at 4th and J did no damage, according to firemen.

Air Authority Eyes On Second Runway

By Virgil Falloon

A second runway plan for the Lincoln Air Force Base is still in the city's municipal airport picture that is presently clouded by disagreement between the Federal Aviation Agency and Air Force over its use, informed sources said Wednesday.

Meanwhile, the Lincoln Airport Authority has called a special meeting Friday, 9:30 a.m., at City Hall to discuss its position in the wake of Tuesday's inter-agency meeting from which newsmen were barred.

The inter-agency huddle, which drew high-level Washington representation to Lincoln, deadlocked over the Air Force condition for a "separate runway for light general aviation" under offered "unlimited civil use" of the base under joint agreement.

All Planes?

The FAA position was "light general aviation" meant all planes other than military and commercial airliners, while the Air Force said its terminology meant aircraft equivalent in size to DC-3's and Convairs and no 4-place or two-place craft.

Informed sources said that FAA representatives from Washington privately suggested to authority members (following the deadlocked meeting) that Lincoln "push" for a second runway plan.

They indicated differences over aircraft-types using the separate (second) runway could be "resolved or compromised" if a second-runway plan were definitely proposed by the authority, sources said.

Sources said the FAA is reluctant to approve new municipal airport plans where an air base is already existing.

When the Air Force wanted exclusive use of the Lake Charles, La., base, the FAA approved federal aid for a new municipal airport, sources said. And while the new airport was still under construction, the Air Force withdrew from the Lake Charles base.

Last November, the FAA failed to approve federal funds for a new Lincoln municipal airport east of the city proposed for both commercial airlines and general aviation.

While FAA indications at Tuesday's meeting were no federal money would be made available before fiscal 1962, there was still some speculation that some funds might be found for a low-cost airport improvement plan.

No RR Move

The sources said a 3,500-4,000 foot runway located 750 feet east of existing LAFB runways would not necessitate re-location of railroad trackage. The closed diagonal runway would serve a ready-made taxiway and land needed for a second runway would be acquired from the Air Force, probably at no cost.

Immediate speculation of Lincoln's possible moves was:

—definitely "push" for a second-runway plan with efforts to obtain modification of Air Force conditions as to "light general aviation."

—continue to use Union Airport facilities with perhaps some modest improvements for light aviation and "wait out" the anticipated phasing-out of operational military aircraft at the air base during the next few years.

—continue to use air base runways and municipal terminal buildings for air carriers (especially with anticipated jet airliners for Lincoln by 1962), obtain AF concessions for executive-type aircraft, and allow private airfield operators to assume the responsibility for light aviation.

NU Gets Business Research Grants

The University of Nebraska reported Wednesday it had been awarded $39,706 in new grants by the Small Business Administration. The total includes:

—$9,154 for an investigation and analysis of research activity product diversification and product differentiation by small manufacturers in Nebraska.

—$6,900 to exploit the methods of counting the number of business firms and establishments in Nebraska by type, size and location.

—$5,500 for research into operating controls utilized by selected Nebraska manufacturing firms employing 25 to 200 persons.

—$18,152 for research into essential factors in the establishment of efficient vegetable processing and distribution firms in Nebraska.

Crackdown Pays Off

Omaha (AP) — A City-state crackdown on overweight trucks is showing results. County Treasurer Sam J. Howell said 25 truckers have increased their registered weight capacity since the drive began last weekend.

Moreland Named Head On Thorne Committee

Virgil Moreland of Lincoln has been named chairman of the Town and Country Committees for Thorne, the Thorne-for-Congress Committee announced Wednesday.

Hans "Jack" Thorne, mayor of Hastings, is seeking the Republican nomination for Congress in the First District.

"The purpose of the committees will be to provide a representative voice from every section of the district," Moreland said.

Insurance Head 'Goes Through' WOW Minutes

William Grubbs, Nebraska insurance commissioner, said Wednesday he has "gone through" the minutes of the Miami meeting of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society's Board of Directors.

It took him several days. His copy, delivered by society officials last week, tipped the scale at 8¾ pounds.

Grubbs earlier said he would determine through the minutes and report of his examiners whether or not the society has complied with minimum requirements of Nebraska law which he laid out as conditions for keeping its license, up for renewal May 1.

Priority Tab Goes To Power

Over Navigation, Claims Attorney

Grand Forks, N.D. (AP) — Power generation definitely has priority for Missouri River water use over navigation, an attorney hired by the state of South Dakota declared Wednesday.

William Wise, a Washington lawyer, made the declaration before the Missouri Basin Inter-Agency Committee, policy-making group for river development.

His conclusion was in direct conflict with an earlier report by the Army's Corps of Engineers which said navigation and power had equal rights to water impounded in the huge Missouri reservoirs.

Maj. Gen. Keith R. Barney, Missouri River division engineer, had given the engineers' interpretation of the O'Mahoney-Milliken amendment before the MBIAC. The amendment referred to gave states wholly or in part west of the 98th meridian priority on water for domestic, stock water, municipal, mining and industrial purposes.

Nebraska News

Wise, who was retained by the South Dakota Water Resources Commission as counsel, declared that hydroelectric power was in the same category as industrial use and therefore had a priority over navigation.

The attorney said it appeared the Army Engineers were operating on the premise that the O'Mahoney-Milliken amendment lost instead of being passed by Congress.

Wise also contended that the states' appropriative rights were further protected by their various state constitutions.

General Barney's earlier interpretation of the amendment had said that irrigation had a priority.

Flood Control Noted

Barney also told the group lower Missouri River basin state floods this spring would have caused $200 million damage had it not been for upstream dams and local protection works.

The estimated damage was $17 million.

Barney estimated that had it not been for the reservoirs and flood protection works there would have been more than $22 million damage at Council Bluffs, Ia., more than $27 million in damage at Omaha, Neb., and nearly $120 million in damages at the Kansas Citys.

Basing his estimates on field surveys conducted throughout the flooded areas by the Corps of Enginners, Barney told the committee that the efficient operation of the completed flood control works of the Pick-Sloan Plan was a "bright side" of the otherwise severe and widespread flood condition.

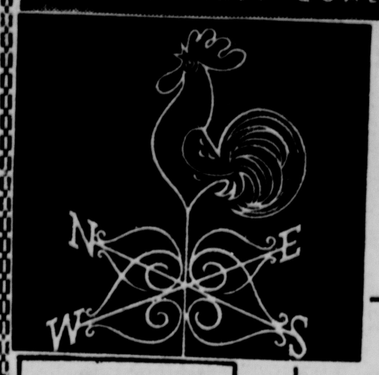

"It it had not been for the main stem and tributary reservoirs and other flood protection works already built and in place, this flood would have caused damages on the order of $200 million rather than $17 million," Barney said.

Pointing out that record floods were experienced on several tributary streams, Barney said that along the lower Missouri River, under natural conditions without regulation by main steam and tributary reservoir, the recent flood would have been the third highest of all-time record.

Preliminary corps estimates indicate the total of about 1,485,000 acres of land were flooded along all streams involved. Included were all or parts of at least 69 towns. More than half of the urban areas affected, 36, are in Nebraska.

Stanton Delaplane's POSTCARD

Our friend Jacques Lemoine came in from Paris this morning for his first visit in America. (I intend to drive him across country, a return for his driving me around France.)

"I 'ave an excellent trip," he said. "Oh, very nice."

"Do you have any trouble, Jacques?"

"Oh, no. I am getting on the jet plane in Paris. Six o'clock in the morning. Poof! We arrive to New York at 7:30 in the morning, New York time. Is fantastique!"

"And you have no language difficulty?"

"Oh, yes. I'ave stoody — 'ow you say, stoody?"

"Study?"

"Yes, exactly. I 'ave stoody English very 'ard. I think I 'ave learn well. I fly Pan American jet. Very nice. Very pretty stewardess. Dinner is prepare by Maxim's in Paris. I am very comfortable.

"The stewardess prepare the dinner in the—'ow you say—between the seat. She 'ave the table on wheels with —'ow you say? Wosebif?"

"Roast beef?"

"Exactmente. She 'ave the wosebif. I say to her: 'I will take the wosebif.' She bring me the lobstair. Very difficult to speak English."

☆ ☆ ☆

We had lunch today with Max Blouet, who used to manage the George V in Paris. Mr. Blouet now runs the elegant Ambassador East on Chicago's north side.

We had lunch in the Pump Room. It was made famous mainly by Ernie Byfield, the first restaurant man to bring out shashlik flaming on a sword.

("It looks pretty and it don't hurt the meat any," said Ernie.)

With such a flaming start, the Ambassadors (there are two—the Ambassador East and Ambassador West) — the hotels went on with more chi-chi than Saturday night at Buckingham Palace.

The waiters are dressed in red tail coats, knee breeches and stockings. The coffee is poured by a gentleman tall enough to play professional basketball. He is the color of wet anthracite and wears a costume of apple green.

It is quite a show. And, as Mr. Byfield said so sagely, it doesn't hurt the food a bit.

☆ ☆ ☆

"And now where we will see the gahngstair" said Lemoine. "Two reason I make the visit to the United States. To see the gahngstair and to see the cowboy."

I do not know any gangsters personally. When you ask people in Chicago about gangsters, they look pained.

"Oh, that sort of thing is all over now. Why just today, Cardinal Meyer has stopped bingo games that used to raise money for parish activities."

"There are no gangsters in the city any more, Jacques."

"Ah, but I see them. You 'ave picture in the cinema. I must see the gahngstair. Also the cowboy."

Max Blouet said he had heard of a small night club that was supposed to be run by a minor ex-hood. It gets a pretty good play from American tourists. They also believe you should not come to Chicago without seeing a gangster.

☆ ☆ ☆

"In New York," said Jacques, "I 'ave a friend from Paris. He cannot say anysing but 'apple pie and coffee.' That is why I learn English.

"My friend tell me he eat apple pie and coffee for breakfast. He eat again for lunch. He eat again for dinner. Next day same sing. That night he say to the waiter: 'Steak.' Is same word in French, you know.

"The waiter say, "ow you like the steak. Medium, rare buzz buzz buzz.' My friend cannot understand what 'e say. So 'e say to the waiter: 'Apple pie and coffee.' Then 'e go back to France before 'e starve."

STOCKS TAKE SLUMP

New York (AP) — The stock market took its worst loss in more than six weeks as blue chips, headed by American Telephone, fell sharply Wednesday. Trading was moderately active.

An estimated $2,700,000,000 was clipped from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Exchange, based on the decline in the Associated Press average.

Definite word from the president of AT&T that the big utility planned no dividend boost in the near future was the big news of the day and highlighted a series of corporate earnings reports which were not as bright as some Wall Streeters had expected.

The Dow Jones industrial average dropped 6.69 to 618.71.

The AP 60-stock average fell 2.00 to 213.10 with the industrials down 2.80, the rails down 1.20 and the utilities down 1.20.

Of 1,199 issues traded, 247 advanced and 716 declined. New highs for the year totaled 28 and new lows 113.

Volume was 3,150,000 shares compared with 3,080,000 Tuesday.

Eleven of the 15 most active stocks declined and four advanced.

American Stock Exchange prices declined on a volume of 1,050,000 shares compared with 1,220,000 Tuesday.

Corporate bonds were mixed.

U.S. government bonds had their best gains in about two weeks in a reflection of switching from stocks into these securities.

Bond volume on the New York Stock Exchange totaled $6,720,000 par value compared with $5,270,000 Tuesday.

Hitchhikers, Drivers Need To Use Caution

By Roger Wait

Both hitchhikers and drivers need to use caution on the highway.

To many people a hitchhiker is an unknown quantity. His symbol is an outstretched thumb; his aim is a free ride — usually.

He might be a college student seeking an inexpensive ride home or back to school. He could be a transient laborer, going elsewhere after the job behind has given out.

Unfortunately, he might be a character with illegal leanings.

Many Nebraskans remember the nightmare story of a young, well-to-do couple returning to Virginia after their honeymoon. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. May II, both 22, were found west of Boys Town Aug. 28, 1947.

Convicted of their murder, Charles Edward McClelland, 30, formerly of Fayette, Mo., is under life sentence in the state penitentiary.

Lincoln Has Ordinance

State law does not prohibit hitchhiking, but many cities and towns, including Lincoln, do by ordinance.

Lincoln police regard the practice as hazardous, to motorists and ride solicitors alike.

One detective said a hitchhiker exposes himself to getting hit by passing cars. The motorist, he observed, doesn't know who he's picking up and might end up being robbed, assaulted, mutilated or even murdered.

Whether to pick up the man behind the thumb is a "case of judgment on the part of the motorist," was the comment of Col. C. J. Sanders, state safety patrol head.

Not A Problem

Hitchhiking has not been "too much of a problem in the past several years," he said, but "I myself wouldn't pick up hitchhikers."

Most trucking firms have rules against pick-ups, he noted.

Interstate Commerce Commission motor carriers safety regulations "prohibit transportation of all unauthorized persons," according to Max H. Johnston, district supervisor of the ICC Bureau of Motor Carriers.

Exceptions allowed are emergency pick-ups and riders on livestock trucks who care for animals.

Air Force regulations forbid airmen to hitchhike, but encourage a "buddy station system," the Lincoln Air Force Base provost marshal's office said.

Buddy System

Near the LAFB main entrance stands a shelter with sign: "Hi, buddy, how about a lift?" And the downtown corner of 9th and O is, by agreement with city police, an 'informal pick-up spot" for airmen.

And what if a hitchhiker is injured while riding in a car?

Legally a "guest passenger," a hitchiker would be in "a good position" to recover damages from the driver of another car, a Lincoln lawyer said.
